TERRY PEGULA

OWNER/CEO

Terry Pegula rose from humble beginnings to become one of the most respected leaders in the energy industry, and one of very few owners to operate franchises in multiple professional sports.

Together with his wife Kim, Terry realized a life-long dream on October 8, 2014. The Pegulas received the unanimous approval of NFL owners to succeed Pro Football Hall of Famer Ralph C. Wilson, Jr. to become the second owners of the Buffalo Bills.

"Owning any professional team is about winning and the primary goal of our ownership will be to win the Super Bowl and bring championships to the city of Buffalo," he said at his introductory press conference.

Terry serves as CEO of the Bills and currently sits on the NFL's Health and Safety committee. In 2016, the Pegulas were honored with the Tank Younger Award, which recognizes extraordinary contributions towards diversity in the NFL.

Born on March 27, 1951 in Carbondale, PA, Terry is a 1969 graduate of Scranton Preparatory School. He entered Penn State University as a math major and was accepted into the Petroleum and Natural Gas Engineering Program. He went on to graduate with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1973 and landed his first job with Getty Oil Co. in Victoria, TX. He later joined Felmont Oil Co. as an Area Engineer, a decision that brought him to Olean, NY in 1975.

In 1983, Terry borrowed $7,500 from family and friends to create East Resources Inc., an independent oil and gas exploration and production company operating in the Appalachian Basin. Over the next 27 years, Terry built East into one of the largest privately held companies in the United States. In July of 2010, Royal Dutch Shell purchased the assets of East Resources Inc., which continues to be active today. In 2012, Terry formed JKLM Energy. JKLM is staffed with many former East Resources employees and takes pride in contributing to U.S. energy independence by producing Pennsylvania natural gas, elevating the state into one of the top producing regions in the world.

Upon the sale of East Resources assets, Terry focused his attention on his love of sports. In September of 2010, the Pegulas announced a gift of $102 million to construct Pegula Ice Arena, paving the way for Division I hockey at Penn State.

On February 22, 2011, Terry and Kim purchased the NHL's Buffalo Sabres and their sports ownership now extends to the NLL Buffalo Bandits and Rochester Knighthawks and the AHL Rochester Americans.

The Pegulas opened LECOM Harborcenter in 2014. The $200 million dollar complex, next door to the Sabres' KeyBank Center, includes two hockey rinks, training facilities and a full-service Marriott Hotel.

The complex has helped bring new business opportunities to Buffalo, including multi-year agreements to host the NHL Combine. Buffalo also hosted the 2016 NHL Draft, 2018 World Junior Championships, 2019 Frozen Four NCAA Men's Hockey Tournament, as well as a wide variety of stadium and arena concerts and national and international tournaments.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, the Pegulas donated $1.2 million to various relief efforts in Western New York.

In addition to helping manage the family's sports operations, Terry runs JKLM Energy in Pittsburgh, and his family's business operations in Boca Raton, Florida.

Terry and Kim have five children: Michael, Laura, Jessica, Kelly and Matthew. Jessica competes on the Women's Tennis Association Tour.

KIM PEGULA

OWNER/PRESIDENT

Kim Pegula is the President of both the Buffalo Bills and Buffalo Sabres as well as President and CEO of Pegula Sports and Entertainment.

Overseeing the day-to-day business operations of each team, she is the first female president of both a NHL and NFL team.

A valued member of both sports' ownership groups, Kim currently serves on the NFL's Super Bowl and Major Events Advisory Committee, Business Ventures Committee, and NFL Foundation Committee. She serves on the Board of Directors of the Hockey Hall of Fame and Museum.

A member of both the NFL's Workplace Diversity Committee and the NHL's Executive Inclusion Council, Pegula is invested in ensuring diversity is a priority across both leagues.

In 2020, she served as a keynote speaker at the NFL's Annual Quarterback Coaching Summit, an event to build the coaching and personnel development pipeline and strengthen diversity across the league, and at the NFL's Women's Careers in Football Forum at the combine.

On October 8, 2014, Kim and her husband Terry realized a long-time dream when they became only the second owners of the Bills. The Pegulas purchased the Sabres in 2011 and their sports ownership extends to the NLL Buffalo Bandits and Rochester Knighthawks and the AHL Rochester Americans.

After owning multiple professional sports teams in the same market, Kim launched Pegula Sports and Entertainment (PSE) in 2014, creating a management company that oversees the business operations across all Pegula-owned entities, including the development and operation LECOM Harborcenter in downtown Buffalo.

PSE has helped bring new business opportunities to Buffalo, including multi-year agreements to host the NHL Combine. It has also hosted the 2016 NHL Draft, 2018 World Junior Championships, 2019 Frozen Four NCAA Men's Hockey Tournament, as well as a wide variety of stadium and arena concerts and national and international tournaments.

Pegula and PSE entities have been honored with a number of awards including Business First's Most Influential People, NYS Emmy Awards for sports content, Buffalo Best Place To Work, the Tank Younger Award for embracing diversity in the NFL, and numerous individual staff recognitions.

Kim and Terry have encouraged the growth of sports in the community. In 2010, the Pegulas gave $102 million for the creation of the Pegula Ice Arena at Penn State. The facility allowed their hockey program to become a NCAA Division I team.

Kim supported Houghton College with a gift of $12 million to build the Kerr-Pegula Athletic Complex allowing their athletic department to become a Division III program.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, the Pegulas donated $1.2 million to various relief efforts in Western New York. Kim also served on Governor Andrew Cuomo's Re-Opening Advisory Board for New York State.

Pegula also serves on the Board of Directors of Republic Services, Inc., an industry leader in U.S. recycling and non-hazardous solid waste.

Born in Seoul, South Korea on June 7, 1969, Kim was adopted at the age of 5 by Ralph and Marilyn Kerr and moved to Fairport, NY, a suburb of Rochester.

She attended nearby Houghton College and graduated in 1991 with a degree in communications. Kim began her professional career with East Resources in 1991 and was involved with the company until its sale in 2010.

BRANDON BEANE

GENERAL MANAGER

Brandon Beane was named General Manager of the Bills on May 9, 2017. In his first three seasons in Buffalo, Beane has helped build a roster and establish a culture that has produced two playoff appearances, including the franchise's first trip to the postseason since 1999.

Beane joined the Bills after a 19-year stint with the Carolina Panthers.

In addition to making the playoffs in 2017, Beane also engineered several trades that resulted in the Bills selecting 7th (QB Josh Allen) and 16th overall (LB Tremaine Edmunds) in the 2018 draft while maintaining all their 2019 draft capital. Along the way, he stabilized the team's salary cap status.

After bolstering the roster with several free agent signings and another productive draft in 2019, the Bills captured their first 10-win season since 1999.

In the 2020 offseason, Beane negotiated a trade with Minnesota to acquire WR Stefon Diggs and added several other free agents to fortify Buffalo's defense and special teams.

Beane, who served as the Panthers assistant general manager from 2015-16, played a vital role in constructing the Panthers draft boards from 2012-17, evaluated professional and collegiate players and worked closely with the football operations staff on the negotiation of player contracts.

Throughout Beane's time in Carolina, the Panthers won five NFC South division titles and two NFC conference championships. In 2012, Beane was named the Panthers interim general manager—holding the role for the final 10 games of the season. Carolina finished out the season with a 6-4 record under Beane's watch.

Beane also worked closely with current Bills head coach Sean McDermott in Carolina, where McDermott served as defensive coordinator from 2011-16.

"The most impressive thing I think that we accomplished is him and coach are joined at the hip and at the head," said Bills owner Terry Pegula. "They think alike. They're both very thorough people. They can make instantaneous decisions like a coach has to during the game but they also think stuff out to the point where you say, 'Wow these guys are very thorough.'"

A cum laude graduate in communications studies from UNC-Wilmington in 1998 and a native of Stanly County, North Carolina, Beane (born July 27, 1976) began his career in 1998 with the Panthers communications department.

Beane moved on to fill various football operations/personnel roles with the Panthers organization before being named the team's director of football operations in 2008.

Beane has ingrained himself in the Western New York community. In the 2020 offseason, Brandon helped raise nearly $100,000 for COVID-19 relief efforts with a sweepstakes through the United Way by offering unique fan experiences related to the draft. He also helped promote the Buffalo Strong initiative that benefits FeedMore WNY. Beane participated in and served as a spokesperson for the Bills 50-yard Finish race that benefits the Independent Health Foundation. He has also served as a spokesperson for the One Buffalo Pet Adoption event and has made multiple visits to Oishei's Children Hospital in Buffalo during the holidays.

Brandon and his wife, Hayley, have two sons, Tyson and Wes and reside in Orchard Park, NY. The family has two dogs, Bodie and Peanut. He enjoys golf, running (he finished a marathon in Wilmington, NC in 2010), racquetball and basketball.

SEAN MCDERMOTT

HEAD COACH

Sean McDermott was named head coach of the Bills on January 11, 2017. With two playoff appearances under his belt in his first three seasons, he methodically transformed the culture of a franchise that had not experienced a postseason berth since 1999.

In 2017, McDermott became the third coach in Bills history to earn a playoff spot in his first season, joining Joe Collier (1966) and Wade Phillips (1998).

Two years later, Buffalo posted their first 10-win season since 1999 as they secured a playoff spot after a week 15 win at Pittsburgh on Sunday Night Football.

McDermott's defense has been a hallmark of the Bills success. From 2018-19, the Bills gave up the fewest number of yards (296.2 per game) in the NFL while allowing the 4th lowest point total (19.8 per game).

McDermott was hired by the Bills after 6 seasons as the defensive coordinator of the Carolina Panthers. He led a top-10 defense in 4 of those seasons and helped the Panthers earn 3 division titles and a trip to Super Bowl 50.

Over his six-year tenure, the Panthers defense ranked second in the NFL in sacks (261), third in takeaways (169), sixth in rushing yards allowed per game (103.3), ninth in yards per game (339.1) and 12th in points allowed per game (22.1).

In 2015, McDermott's defense helped lead the way for the Panthers 15-1 season and run to Super Bowl 50. The Panthers ranked 2nd in the NFL in yards allowed per play (4.9) and 6th in scoring defense (19.3). Four defenders – Thomas Davis, Luke Kuechly, Josh Norman and Kawann Short – were named to the Pro Bowl and earned All-Pro honors.

McDermott was named The Sporting News Coordinator of the Year in 2013 as his unit ranked 2nd in total defense (301.3 yards per game), led the NFL in sacks (60), and finished 2nd in points allowed (15.1). Carolina went 12-4 to win the NFC South, earning their first playoff spot since 2008.

He spent his first 12 NFL seasons with Philadelphia, working his way up to defensive coordinator in 2009-10. In 2009, he was named the NFL's top defensive coordinator by Pro Football Weekly.

A protege of the late Jim Johnson, the Eagles legendary defensive coordinator, McDermott served as Philadelphia's defensive assistant/quality control coach (2001-02), assistant defensive backs coach (2003), secondary/safeties coach (2004-06), and linebackers coach (2007-08). He joined the Eagles in 1998 as a scouting administrative coordinator before being promoted to assistant to the head coach under Andy Reid in 1999. McDermott worked with several Pro Bowlers during his time in Philadelphia, including Hall of Fame safety Brian Dawkins.

McDermott and his family are active in the Western New York community, making multiple visits to Oishei's Children Hospital of Buffalo, contributing to a Habitat for Humanity build, and making a sizable donation to those working on the front lines during the Covid-19 pandemic. For My Cause, My Cleats games, he has sported shoes that provide awareness for food allergies, something that has affected his own family.

A member of the LaSalle College High School Hall of Athletics, McDermott was a two-time All-Catholic League and a National Prep School Champion in 1992 and 1993 and went undefeated in 75 consecutive wrestling matches.

A member of the William & Mary Athletics Hall of Fame, McDermott was an All-Atlantic 10 Conference choice at safety in 1997 and graduated with a degree in finance. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater in 1998. He was a college teammate of Steelers head coach Mike Tomlin.

Sean and his wife, Jamie, have three children. His father, Rich, was a football coach at West Chester and Ursinus and his brother, Tim, is the Chief Business Officer of the Philadelphia Union of the MLS. McDermott was born in Omaha, Nebraska on March 21, 1974.

FIRST-AND-10

TYRELL ADAMS joins the Bills after spending the 2019-2020 seasons with the Houston Texans. Prior to the Texans, Adams played for the Oakland Raiders during the 2016-17 seasons. He entered the NFL as an undrafted free agent with the Seahawks in 2015 following a try-out with the team.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

PLAN A & PLAN B

Coming out of West Georgia Adams had NFL aspirations, but made sure he was prepared to start a career if football didn't work out. That path led him to interview for a job with Northwestern Mutual, where he could utilize his accounting and finance degree.

"As I'm walking out of interview, I get a call from random number," Adams told the Texans team website in 2020. "He's like, I want you to come perform for these couple teams. I'm literally like, 'Oh my God, I got a chance.' So kind of just rolled from there."

Northwestern Mutual offered Adams a job and wanted him to start right away, but he opted to see how things would play out with the NFL before hanging up the cleats. "I told them I'd keep in contact with them," Adams said. "I never got back to them."

Adams took advantage of his shot in the NFL, translating a try-out with the Seahawks into a contract and becoming just the fourth player from West Georgia to make it to the NFL.

PERSONAL

Has a daughter named Kree and a son named Kade. His foundation (The Tyrell Adams Foundation) strives to mentor and foster hopefulness for the inner city youth. Was named to West Georgia's 2020 Hall of Fame Class.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

"THE CHIP IS G"

Addison's younger brother, Gjamal Rodriquez, occupies a large place in Mario's heart. "G" was shot and killed in Birmingham on October 27, 2019. Mario was flying home from a game in San Francisco when he heard the news. "It added more fuel to the fire," Addison said. "I'm playing for a higher cause. Now I'm playing with a chip on my shoulder, and the chip is 'G.'"

AN UNDRAFTED EDGE

Addison went undrafted in 2011 and is in his 11th season. "Guys like me had to work from the bottom – and I do mean the bottom. There were times I'd wake up ... and think that football must not be for me, but I still had a passion and the fire in my heart to keep going."

"LIVING PROOF"

In Birmingham, Addison annually delivers turkeys for Thanksgiving, holds a football camp for kids, holds an annual prom event and regularly hosts "man-to-man" talks in the Birmingham housing authority. "I'm living proof that anyone can make it. Everyone is not going pro, but I want to inspire the next group of doctors and lawyers. I'm about giving back and instilling that confidence in them."

PERSONAL

Has two sons, Ryland and Karter. Is the son of Anionette Addison. Began playing football at age 5 as a RB and QB in the East Thomas Little League. Earned a degree in social sciences.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

"I'M ALWAYS GRATEFUL TO JERRY"

Addison roomed with Bills teammate Jerry Hughes in 2011 and 2012 while playing for the Colts. "At the time I was there, I was looking for somewhere to stay, and Jerry offered his home to me," Addison said. "So I moved in with Jerry and I tried to pay rent. I tried to pay a bill or two, and he kept turning me down. That's why I'm always grateful to Jerry. He housed me. He took on a role as a vet when he was still in his second year. He took on leadership already. He took me under his wing. I'm very grateful for that. We always stayed in contact with each other."

NEXT-LEVEL NASCAR COLLECTION

Addison became a fan of NASCAR as a teenager and has attended several races. He met two of his favorite drivers, Tony Stewart and Kevin Harvick, in recent years and proudly displays their autographed fire suits in his home. "I'm a big NASCAR fan," said Addison. "I have been to races in Charlotte and Talladega. I'm big on cars, anyways. Especially old school cars. My favorite car is the Monte Carlo SS. In fact, I have a replica of Tony Stewart's Home Depot Car. It's white with the orange interior."

A NO STAR RECRUIT

Despite racking up 5,269 yards and 59 touchdowns in his final two high school seasons at Firebaugh High School, Allen didn't receive a single offer from a Division I program due to only being 6-2 and 180 pounds at the time. "I didn't have any stars. I was a no star, no offer guy out of high school. I sent emails every day to almost every coach in the nation. 'Please, please just offer me.' All I was asking for was an opportunity," said Allen in a 2017 ESPN College Gameday feature.

Allen eventually opted to attend Reedley College, where he threw for 2,055 yards and 26 touchdowns while simultaneously hitting a growth spurt that boosted his height to 6-5 and weight to 215 pounds. Allen finally got his opportunity after his time in junior college, accepting Wyoming's scholarship offer over an offer from Eastern Michigan.

HR DERBY CHAMPION

Allen, who could topped out at 92-93 MPH pitching in high school, showed he can hit a baseball too. Allen won Micah Hyde's charity softball game HR derby, defeating Jordan Poyer in the final round.

PERSONAL

The son of Joel and LaVonne Allen, Josh is the second of four children (two sisters and one brother). He earned his degree from Wyoming with a major in communications. Lives in Orchard Park with his girlfriend, Brittany, and has a silver lab named Sky.

SUPERCADDE'S WEEKEND IN BUFFALO

For the Bills-Jets matchup in Week 14 of 2018, Allen flew in a very special guest named Cade Spinello. At the age of five, Cade suffered a massive stroke during surgery for a brain tumor. The stroke left Cade partially paralyzed and blind. Showing an unbelievable ability to persevere through that fight, Cade earned the nickname SuperCade and now teaches others to Never Ever Give Up. Allen met Cade leading up to the 2018 NFL Draft and ever since has worn a wristband reminding himself of his inspirational buddy Cade.

AN EMOTIONAL WIN

Josh Allen led the Bills to a 44-34 win over the Seattle Seahawks in Week 9. The performance became even more meaningful after the game when Bills HC Sean McDermott told the media that Josh's grandmother, Patricia Allen, had passed away the day prior. In a post-game video released by the team, Allen emotionally tells his teammates "I love you guys. There's no place I'd rather be." Upon learning of the heartache Allen played through, Bills fans began making donations to Oishei Children's Hospital in $17 increments. Donations exploded over the week, eventually surpassing a million dollars.

PLAYING FOR THOSE WHO CAN'T

Allen played his high school ball at Firebaugh HS, a place where his family had deep ties. Allen's grandfather, Buzz Allen, donated the land the school was built upon. Shortly after Buzz's passing during Josh's senior year, Firebaugh HS was set to square off with rival high school Dos Palos. Until that game, Firebaugh had never beaten Dos Palos. Josh led the Eagles to a W on his grandfather's birthday and post-game Josh called it a tribute to his late grandfather. In 2019, Firebaugh High School announced it would retire Allen's #15.

HUMBLE BEGINNINGS

Allen's journey to Buffalo has been no short trek. Born and raised in Firebaugh, California, Allen grew up in a farming town with a population of around 8,000 people. Allen understands the impact his career can have on others.. "I hope that they can look at my story and find a source of inspiration and just know that it is possible. And there's nobody in this world that can tell you not to do something if you have the desire to work for it." Allen hasn't forgotten his roots and recently invested in a pistachio tree back home with his dad.

FIRST-AND-10

JACK ANDERSON was drafted by the Bills in the seventh round (236th overall) of the 2021 draft. Prior to joining the Bills, he played at Texas Tech from 2017-20.

BORN TO BE A RED RAIDER

Anderson was a big time recruit coming out of high school and he surprised some people when he decided to take his talents to Texas Tech. But to those who knew Jack, there was no other place he could go.

In a first person account written for the Texas Tech website, Anderson detailed how the 2008 Texas Tech victory over Texas brought to clarity what his dream in life would be.

"I jumped out of my seat when Graham Harrell found Michael Crabtree for the game-winning touchdown on the opposing sideline, causing mass hysteria not only in the Jones but also in my house," Anderson wrote. "Our family celebrated just like every other Red Raider fan out there. We may not have been able to rush the field, but we were just as excited. It's when I knew I wanted to be a Red Raider."

Couple that feeling with the fact that his dad, uncle and sister had all gone to Lubbock and earned degrees from Texas Tech, Anderson was determined to get there. With hard work and standout play on the field, he was able to accomplish his dream.

DREAM CATCHER FOUNDATION

Eli Ankou and his fiancée, pro cyclist Shayna Powless, founded the Dream Catcher Foundation in 2019. The foundation's mission is to empower future generations of Native American women and children through love, respect, courage, honesty, wisdom, humility, and truth. They fight for missing, murdered and trafficked Native American women and children.

"When I was a kid, pro athletes were people I was looking up to," Ankou told the Ottawa Sun. "It's not just the title: professional athlete. Hopefully I'm able to reach kids. Even if it's one person, even if it's just one life I can change, that's plenty. I'd like to strive for more, but I'm completely happy if I can change one life because eventually that one life could change many more. The future looks bright for Canadians (in football), especially for the Ottawa kids. I'd love to think I'm an influence on them, that would be an absolute honour."

PERSONAL

Prior to attending Red Lion Christian Academy in Delaware during his senior year of high school, he played for three seasons at St. Peter Catholic High School in Orleans, Ontario, where he is originally from. In his free time, he is an avid car enthusiast.

"HE LOVES FOOTBALL"

Growing up the son of a handyman in Roanoke, VA, Basham learned the value of hard work at a young age. His father would often bring his son with him on many odd jobs to help him earn sometimes $2500 during a summer. That work ethic carried over to his football career. Known as an after-hours regular at the Wake Forest football offices and weight room, he had a loud saying on the practice field. "You ain't gotta get ready if you stay ready," according to the The Athletic.

"Even in the NFL, I don't care how much they pay you, it's really hard to do it if you don't have a passion for it," Wake Forest coach Dave Clawson told the Athletic. "He loves football, he loves his teammates."

MIDDLE SCHOOL SPURT

Basham was a two-sport star playing basketball and football in high school. He averaged 20 points and 10 rebounds on the court which was aided by a tremendous growth spurt in middle school. "I entered 7th grade at 5-5 and left 8th grade at 6-2," Basham recalled.

PLAYING FOR MORE

When asked who his inspiration is, Tyler Bass is quick to answer his grandmother.

"My grandma was actually at practice with me every day," Bass told Georgia Southern. "She also was battling breast cancer at the time but she didn't miss a practice or a game, so that gives me a lot of strength."

His grandma has been involved in his football career from the start. When Bass decided to try out for the football team in ninth grade, she brought him to tryouts. Once he made it, she would take him to practice when he couldn't drive. She would also bring snacks and meals to make sure he was performing.

She was diagnosed with breast cancer when he was a senior in high school and had to go through chemotherapy for treatment. She has never missed a game of his, home or away, even through treatment. Her battle taught him not to be afraid of any challenge in front of him.

LIFE LESSONS

Bates credits his high school offensive line coach, Mike Carey, for the lessons learned at Archbishop Wood. "He taught me a lot about life," Bates said. "Way more than just football. He talked to me about resiliency, discipline and he just believed in me. We still text and talk." He also took good notes while playing in Philadelphia in 2019. He spoke about the little things Jason Peters would point out to him. "Things like where your inside hand needs to be or where to plant your outside foot. All the small but important details."

GARAGE WORK

During the pandemic in 2020, Bates put together a make-shift work area in the garage of his parents' home in suburban Philadelphia. It is equipped with an office and a space to lift weights. "There's something about working out in the garage that's kind of like, I wanna say, gritty," he told WIVB. "My household's not the quietest household so I call it my sanctuary."

Beasley first got into rapping in high school for fun, then purchased an audio program with his first stipend check in college. He later started writing his own music while continuing to pursue a career in football.

"I simply want to make music for the people who are constantly searching for something new to hear," Beasley wrote in a statement after releasing his first single. "My goal is to reach music lovers all over the world. I put my all into it like I do everything else. I hope you enjoy it as much as I enjoyed creating it. There is only one way to live and you only get one chance."

In an effort to support the Black Lives Matter movement, Beasley announced in June 2019 that all streams from his song "United Hates of America" would be donated to 9inety-10 nonprofit, which introduces underprivileged kids and athletes to health wellness through sports and proper exercise.

FAMILY MAN

Beasley and his wife Kyrstin have three children - Ace, Everett and Jovie. The family recently built a ranch in Junction, Texas, to enjoy in their free time with extended family, as well.

"That's where all the deer are at," Beasley told the Buffalo News. "That was the dream from the beginning, really. That's what I said I was going to do when I got my first decent contract. It's just a really cool deal for our family. We've enjoyed it so much."

HIS FATHER'S SON

When asked who the biggest influence on his life and career has been, Beasley was quick to answer his father, Mike.

"He's been a mentor for me my whole life," Beasley said. "He was my high school coach, but he's been my teacher throughout my entire life."

Beasley hopes to be the same for his children as Mike is for him, listing his proudest achievement as being a father.

FIRST-AND-10

NATE BECKER completed his second season with the Bills in 2020 after signing with the team as a rookie out of Miami (Ohio). Becker originally entered the NFL with the Detroit Lions in 2019 as an undrafted free agent.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

THE WALK-ON

The biggest obstacle that Becker has had to overcome in his football career so far was having no college offers coming out of high school and being determined to show he belonged at the Division I level.

After deciding to enroll as a walk-on at Miami (OH), Becker set to work in taking advantage of every opportunity he could to prove to his teammates and coaches that he deserved to be there.

After redshirting the entire 2014 season, Becker showed enough during practices to earn a scholarship before the 2015 season and he didn't look back, as he would start 10 games in his first season getting playing time.

Becker used those early experiences as a walk-on later in his college career when he became one of the leaders on the team.

Setting the tone by winning the team's Strength Award in back-to-back off-seasons, Becker focused on helping all of his teammates be the best they could be and it's a mindset that he has carried over in to his time in the NFL.

PERSONAL

The son of Kenneth and Heidi Becker, he has one younger sister and one younger brother. Graduated with a degree in sports management from Miami (OH).

FIRST-AND-10

MIKE BELL re-signed with the Bills in 2021. After a three-year career at Fresno State (2016-18), Bell participated as a safety in the Bills rookie mini-camp in 2019 and was a member of the Bills offseason program in 2020.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

CELEBRITY COACH

Bell began his football as a 7-year old, playing right guard for the Rowland Raiders in Southern California. His head coach was hip-hop icon Snoop Dogg. And he appreciated the lessons he learned from him. "He's super smart," Bell told the Buffalo News. "He's a football head. He loves football. He knows the game. ... I played with his youngest son on the team. He taught us how to be physical, in a sense. He put me at right guard and said you guys gotta be physical to be on this team or you're not going to be here."

Bell's nickname growing up was Scooby Doo and it remains to this day. It was given to him by his father. In fact, his younger brother's nickname is Scrappy Doo.

Bell has embraced the name and his Twitter handle (Supa Scoob) pays homage to it. During his Pro Day at Fresno State in 2019, he even wore Scooby-Doo socks.

He told the Fresno Bee, "My sister bought me these for Christmas and I told her, at my Pro Day, I'll wear them. ... I feel like it gave

FIRST-AND-10

IKE BOETTGER completed his third season in Buffalo in 2020. A 2018 undrafted free agent, Boettger spent time on the Chiefs active roster in 2018 before being claimed off waivers for the Bills.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

A SECOND CHANCE

Boettger saw a prosperous 2016 season, garnering praise from media and was rewarded with a spot on his team's leadership group, one of only seven juniors to do so. As the 2017 Hawkeyes season started, nothing but optimism was on the horizon.

Boettger started at right tackle in a 44-41 OT win at Iowa State, the second game of the season, as the offense gained 497 yards. However, he was forced to leave in the second half due to injury and missed the remainder of the season with an Achilles tendon tear.

"That was the biggest obstacle I had to overcome. [The rehab] was longer than I expected, but it was ahead of schedule for [an] Achilles injury," Boettger said.

Knowing that the injury would end his career at Iowa, Ike worked hard in order to prove himself to NFL teams. He impressed many at Iowa's pro day, boasting a 3-cone time of 7.45 seconds, which would have tied for fifth among all offensive linemen at the NFL combine.

AN ADOPTED FAMILY

When Mother's Day and Father's Day come around every year, Breida is grateful to be able to call his parents and express how appreciative he is of them—especially for having adopted him shortly after birth.

A story written in the Savannah Morning News in 2015 described the Breida family: "That's them. Mike and Terri Breida. It's obvious they are not really related to Matt. They are not his biological parents. They are both white, 55 years old and permanently disabled; Terri is confined to a wheelchair. None of that matters to Matt. To him, they are Mom and Dad. He also has an adopted brother named Josh."

Mike and Terri always knew they wanted kids, eventually deciding to turn to adoption after Terri witnessed a situation where a baby was given up due to domestic violence. With the couple having difficulties conceiving themselves, Terri vowed that if they could help a similar child they would. Soon thereafter, Matt and Josh both were adopted into the family.

FIRST-AND-10

SPENCER BROWN was drafted by the Bills in the third round (93rd overall) of the 2021 draft. Prior to joining the Bills, he played at Northern Iowa from 2016-20. Brown is the first Bill ever drafted from Northern Iowa.

LOYALTY TO NORTHERN IOWA

When the Missouri Valley Conference postponed the 2020 season to the spring of 2021 due to the COVID-19 pandemic, it was a true shot to the gut of Spencer Brown. Everything had been building to his senior year. He had high hopes not just for himself individually, but also for his team. From his point of view, Northern Iowa had a real chance at a championship.

When the news broke, coaches from Power 5 schools started reaching out to Brown in hopes he was going to transfer in order to bolster his draft stocks. Brown quickly put that to bed because there was no way he was going to be a part of anything that wasn't at Northern Iowa.

"I am not going to let someone else reap the benefits of what UNI did for me," he wrote on his Twitter account. "I did not want to go somewhere and be under a system of guys that didn't like me from the start. I'd never do that."

"It's as simple as that," Brown said to The Athletic. "I can't imagine playing with a bunch of guys that aren't my guys here."

After his senior season at Northern Iowa was canceled due to COVID, Brown ended up heading to California to begin draft prep and was paired with former 49ers All-Pro Joe Staley to learn the ropes of life in the NFL.

"He is a real down to earth dude and was just teaching me the ropes, working either one-on-one or with other O-line guys they'd brought in," Brown said to The Creston News Advertiser. "He was a big help in helping me regroup and learn the techniques."

BUSINESS MAN

Bryant has always known that he was meant to be more than an athlete and with that mindset he has found a passion in the business world. It started off when he had some down time, sold his Toyota Tundra, bought a Camry and began driving for Uber.

"I was like, I've got to do something," Bryant said to Cleveland.com, "I was so bored, I'm a big saver, I like saving my money, so I'm going to live off of (what he made driving)."

While driving for Uber, Bryant met a client he told him about the money that could be made in the housekeeping business. It led him to team up with his college roommate at Florida Atlantic, Sharrod Neasman, and the two bought a Merry Maids franchise in Davie, Florida.

"That's the first business I own," he said. "I want to keep growing."

FATHER FIGURE

Butler's father, Vernon Butler Sr. was a shooting guard at Northeastern Louisiana from 1981-83 and helped them make the NCAA tournament in 1982. He played against future NBA Hall of Famers Karl Malone and Joe Dumars, and says his son was a good basketball player, too. But he was better at football.

"When he was in Pee Wee, he was dominating. He was playing D-tackle when he was in the fifth grade," Butler Sr. told Joe Person in an article for the Charlotte Observer. "He was lighting (running backs) up. They'd go the other way."

Vernon Butler Sr. worked 23 years as a technician in a local sawmill and takes his family to church on Sundays.

Butler, Jr. quit his high school football team after his freshman season. He sat out a season until his father had a talk with him. "I said, 'Go back out there and help those boys win a championship,'" Butler Sr. said. "That was his dream. And everything started clicking."

"KEEP PROVING THEM WRONG"

Growing up in a town of less than 2,000 people, Butler knows how fortunate he is to make it from Summit, MS to the National Football League, let alone as a first round draft pick. "Getting here from where I was," was Butler's response to what he had to most overcome to be where he is today. "Whenever I have a chance, I always tell kids back home, 'Don't let anyone tell you that can't do something and keep proving them wrong.'" According to an article on ESPN.com, Summit boasts only a couple of gas stations and a poultry processing plant. Butler and safety Glover Quin (4th round, 2009) are the only two players drafted in the NFL from North Pike High School.

Buffalo Bills: Embedded provided fans with a sneak peak of the Bills draft process and one element of that was Gabriel Davis' Combine interview with the Bills decision makers. Davis revealed in that interview that the wide receiver he has always tried to emulate is long-time NFL veteran and future Hall of Famer Larry Fitzgerald. Davis also notes that having grown up a Packers fan, he enjoyed watching Donald Driver play the wideout position in addition to current NFL receivers Keenan Allen, Michael Thomas and Mike Evans.

NEW TEAMMATES

Even prior to being drafted by the Bills, Davis was already connecting with fellow rookie Zack Moss. The duo trained together in Southern California leading up to the NFL Draft. "I (woke) up in the morning, get into the weight room and get in a lift and then I get on the field around 11 to noon and just do a lot of agility and speed work," Davis said. "A lot of conditioning and then at night, I like to go catch some balls either in the gym or on the field — all different types of things to be ready to compete at the next level."

Son of Alana Davis. Has two siblings and his younger brother, Jordan will be a freshman at UCF in the fall. Majored in interdisciplinary studies at UCF. Enjoys fishing and playing video games in his time away from football.

FOLLOWING THE PATH

UCF has produced its share of talented receivers in recent years, including Davis and Pro Bowl wide receiver Brandon Marshall. The two UCF alumni had the opportunity to connect this offseason to go over film, train and learn. "You have a bright future ahead of you," Marshall told Davis. "I'm excited to watch you, I've been watching you for a couple years. You broke all my records, Mike Sims-Walker's records, Doug Gabriel's records at UCF and I expect you to do the same thing. Carry on that torch, wide receiver university. Come back and bring some other guys with you."

Dawkins originally was drafted by the team in the second round (63rd overall) out of Temple in 2017. While at Temple, Dawkins dressed for 44 career games, starting 41. SHNOW MAC

"Stir that mac and cheese up, you stir that mac and cheese up, and eventually the mac and cheese is gonna be nice, wet, and juicy."

Dawkins made waves when he dropped this quote about the Bills running game following the team's 17-16 season opening victory over the New York Jets. Dawkins quote went viral and then he capitalized on the opportunity. He now has his own signature dish at Mooney's Bar and Grill in Buffalo: the "Shnow Mac". It's a tribute to Dawkins' nickname, the Shnowman.

All of the proceeds go to the non-profit foundation Rooted in Love. The foundation was founded by Tesha Parker, who uses her late grandmother's house as a place to shelter and provide for the homeless population.

THE ORIGINAL SHNOWMAN

Dawkins teamed up with a very special designer for My Cause, My Cleats week in 2018. He invited Jack Frost, a friend of the Bills through Oishei Children's Hospital, to decorate his cleats. What Jack didn't know is that Dawkins and Josh Allen had some big surprises planned. After designing Dawkins' cleats, Allen surprised Jack with a chance to play Madden in the Bills team meeting room. In the meantime, Dawkins was waiting with a pair of Super Bowl tickets that Dawkins gave to Frost for edging out the Bills QB in a tightly contested game.

RAHWAY-MADE

Fans see Dawkins take the line of scrimmage every Sunday donning the #73, but not many know the story behind it. Dawkins chose his number because fellow Rahway natives Olsen Pierre wore #71 and then Antonio Garay (pictured above) wore #72. In a tribute to his hometown, Dawkins wanted to keep the lineage going and chose #73. Rahway has always been a driving force for Dawkins and one of his proudest moments came as a senior in high school when the mayor of Rahway recognized his service to the city with a formal letter.

ON A MISSION

Because of a knee condition Devey developed in junior high, he was told to put football on hold as he continued to grow. It wasn't until he went on a mission where he decided to give football another shot.

According to Thechurchnews.com, "I ended up growing another two inches on my mission in Costa Rica," he said. Topping off at 6-foot-7-inches, he was drawn back to the sport.

A couple of his missionary companions had been first-rate high school football players. "And they would tell me, 'Man, you're too big not to play.' I still had a little fire to play football — and the things they told me only added to that fire." But his focus was sharing the gospel. His towering stature and affable nature made it easy to connect with people. "I absolutely loved my mission. I was fortunate to serve in some of the most beautiful parts of the country and meet so many beautiful people. It was an awesome time for me."

THE PROVIDER

Diggs was just 14-years-old when his father, Aron, passed away from congestive heart failure. Ever since then, Diggs has dedicated himself to making his late father proud and providing for his family.

Upon signing a contract extension in 2018 Diggs reminisced "(My dad) just told me, 'Look after your brothers. Look after your mom. Look after your family,'" Diggs said. "That meant a lot to me. With this day coming forward, it just came full circle...I'm happy that I can look at my mom and tell her everything's gonna be OK."

Stefon's younger brother, Trevon, told The Athletic that Stefon instantly stepped up to provide for their family. "My mom being a single mother at the time, she was always working," Trevon said. "So it was just me and Stefon and my brothers and my sister. Stefon always turned to us and made sure we were all OK. He did a good job of that."

Even with all he has already achieved, Diggs still lets his dad serve as a constant reminder of what he is still working for, having 'RIP DAD' tattooed on his right wrist.

Diggs' accomplishments on the field speak for themselves, but in the 2021 offseason he added a substantial accomplishment off the field as he joined the Jordan Brand family. "It's a little bit unreal, coming from where I come from — where people have been lining up for Jordans or camping out for them overnight. I remember camping out for some Vlls. I even did it myself when I was younger. This is both unreal and surreal, to be part of a successful brand that everybody knows and respects. Jordan Brand has an elite group of athletes. Everyone plays at a high level. I'll never forget the moment I got the call. I've been trying to join the Brand for a year or so, and I was really looking forward to it," said Diggs.

TYREL'S BEST BUDDY

While participating in the Best Buddies program in high school, Dodson became close with William Gawlas, who is a student with Down Syndrome.

Gawlas, who Tyrel considers his best friend, participates in the Williamson County (TN) Special Olympics. Dodson was more than happy to change roles and support William's on-field competition.

"It means so much to me to have William as my best buddy," Dodson told the Williamson Herald. "He's my brother. He's always watching me and cheering for me, so it was special to be here [at the Special Olympics] and see him shine today. He might have different circumstances than me, but he's still in the same life. He's still as happy as me and that's what makes me wake up every morning and be grateful for my life."

She is my number one fan and my biggest critic. [laughing] According to her, I have NEVER had a good football game!"

FIRST-AND-10

JAMIL DOUGLAS joins the Bills after spending the past two seasons with the Titans (2019-20). Douglas originally entered the NFL as a fourth round pick in 2015 with the Dolphins. Douglas has also spent time with the Patriots, Falcons and Colts.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

DETERMINED TO MAKE IT

Douglas has come a long way and carved out a successful NFL career, but he almost threw away his shot when he was a freshman at Arizona State.

He was the lookout as one of his teammates stole items from a dorm room and they got caught. Douglas used that moment to realize he needed to get on the straight and narrow.

Back in 2014, Douglas told Tucson.com, "Guys know my history, they know my past and they're not scared to ask me about it. I'm comfortable enough now, so far past it, that I've put it behind me, and I can be an example. I say, 'Don't make these decisions, but if you do, there's always a way to move forward.'"

MY CAUSE, MY CLEATS

This past season, Douglas was one of 10 players across the NFL that supported the RISE Foundation during the NFL's My Cause, My Cleats initiative. Douglas sought to bring awareness to the social injustice in America.

- Played in and started all three games that the Redhawks played in a COVID-19 shortened season as a redshirt senior in 2020. Earned first team All-MAC honors for his play.
- Started all 13 games at left tackle in 2019 and was named first team All-MAC. Was also named one of the team's Offensive Power Players of the Year and earned Academic All-MAC honors. Was a leader on an offensive line that allowed just two sacks per game.
- Played in and started 10 games at right tackle for Miami (OH) in 2018 and helped the Redhawks rush for 159.8 yards per game. As a unit, the O-Line allowed 20 sacks over the season.
- Played in five games with four starts in 2017 before missing time with a foot injury.
- Redshirted the 2016 season.
- Played hockey and football while in high school in Minnesota. Led his team in sacks in as a senior as he starred on both sides of the ball for Edina High School.

FIRST-AND-10

TOMMY DOYLE was drafted by the Bills in the fifth round (161st overall) of the 2021 draft. Prior to joining the Bills, he played at Miami (OH) from 2016-20. Doyle is the second Bill drafted out of Miami (OH), joining TE Bob Jencks in 1963.

FROM HOCKEY TO FOOTBALL

Growing up in Edina, Minnesota, Doyle had no choice but to lace up the skates and play hockey in a town that is obsessed with the sport.

"Hockey was the No. 1 thing for me," Doyle said to WCPO. "Seems like the first thing you learn how to do (in Edina) is skate."

Despite that initial pull to the sport, Doyle's size made it undeniable that he had to give football a shot. He stopped playing hockey in his sophomore year of high school and started dominating on the defensive side of the ball.

He wanted to play defensive end at the next level, but he was told that he was too slow off the ball. He had to make the switch to the offensive side of the ball and it wasn't an easy process.

"The transition was hard. Switching positions was difficult at first. You can be more reckless on the defensive line, just play hard with your head down with some technique and you can still make plays. Offensive line is a lot of fundamentals, technique, more of a mental game. Had to stay balanced."

Once Doyle had made the switch to football, he had dreams of ending up with a Big Ten school. His main hopes were Wisconsin or the University of Minnesota, where his dad had played baseball and his mom had played volleyball.

"They didn't give me the time of day," Doyle said to The Athletic. Instead he ended up at Miami (OH) and used the neglect from the Big Ten schools as motivation as he became an All-MAC honoree and earned his selection in the NFL Draft.

The brothers all faced off in week 15 of the 2019 season as the Bills defeated the Steelers.

A three-sport star growing up, Epenesa played on the St. Louis Eagles AAU basketball team that featured Celtics star Jayson Tatum and former Iowa star Tyler Cook. People don't know how skilled of a basketball player he was, too. He could shoot it, put it on the deck... I talk to him about it every time I see him."

According to a story by The Athletic, A.J. Epenesa's middle name, Jared, came from his father's best friend in college. Former DT Jared DeVries used to lend his car in college to Eppy Epenesa, so he could drive 50 miles to see his fiancée (now wife) Stephanie and their newborn daughter, Samantha. "Naming him after Jared has to do with my friendship with Jared, which will stick for life," Eppy said. "I'm glad I did that. It's a blessing just to have Jared as my friend."

FIRST-AND-10

JON FELICIANO entered the NFL in 2015 as a fourth round pick (128th overall) of the Oakland Raiders out of Miami. Feliciano joined the Bills in 2019 and has started every game he's played in for Buffalo since joining the Bills.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

A LASTING MEMORY

Feliciano has a daughter named Shawn Cole. The origin of that name is his late friend Sean Cole. Cole and Feliciano met as kids. Cole nicknamed Feliciano "Mongo," short for "humongous," due to him being so big for his age. Feliciano even spent nights in the Cole household during times when his family was having financial difficulties. The bond they formed was absolutely unique. "They were brothers," Feliciano's wife, Shannon told ESPN. "I had to get Sean's approval to date Jon." Everything took a tragic turn though in 2016 when Cole crashed his vehicle into a canal in Davie, FL. Underwater for more than 15 minutes, Cole never regained consciousness. In December 2016, Cole, only 22, died after being taken off life support. Now Feliciano remembers his best friend via a tattoo, a t-shirt he wears every game and through his daughter, Shawn Cole Feliciano.

PERSONAL

Married to Shannon and the couple has a daughter, Shawn Cole. Son of Alicia and Rafael. Has two brothers. Last name is pronounced fuh-LEE-see-ah-no.

STARTING FROM NOTHING

Feliciano has endured a long journey to Buffalo, starting from growing up in a condemned mobile home that at times did not have heat, running water, or even electricity. Feliciano didn't even begin playing football until the 9th grade, but recognized with his natural size and abilities, the sport could be a path to a better life. "When I (first started playing football), they gave me a helmet and pads," Feliciano told ESPN. "I didn't know how to put on the pads." The choice to play soon paid off in a scholarship offer from the Miami Hurricanes.

A DRIVING INSPIRATION

Feliciano's younger brother, Chris, was born deaf. Jon carries that weight with him and lets it drive him. "I always feel like he's here with me," Jon told the Miami Herald in 2011. "I just try and do my best because I know he wishes he could be out here. He's my inspiration." Jon's mother, Alicia, recognizes how special their bond is. "Chris is so into the games he won't even leave to go to the bathroom during a break," Alicia said. "He just looks up to Jon. He wants to do what Jon does. That's why Jon does what he does, to try and make him feel a part of that."

FIGHT FOR HIS FAMILY

Ferguson's brother, Blake, was diagnosed as a Type 1 diabetic in 2011 at the age of 13. Since then, it has been a family mission to raise awareness and funds to fight diabetes. In fact, during the 2018 offseason, he joined his brother and the American Diabetes Association in a trip to Capitol Hill to meet with lawmakers to raise awareness.

"The experience I had at Call to Congress with the American Diabetes Association was very eye-opening," Ferguson told the Buffalo News. "To be able to go to the Hill and continue the talks to get more funding for diabetes research was incredible."

BROTHERLY LOVE, FERGUSON STYLE

Reid and Blake Ferguson took similar paths to the NFL growing up in Buford, GA. Both attended Buford High School and LSU. And both are now playing in the AFC East, as Blake was drafted by the Dolphins in 2020. Blake learned a great deal from his big brother over the years, but it was not a one-way street. "Perseverance is the best thing I learned from Blake," recalled Reid. "His battle with diabetes over the years put a lot of things in perspective for me. Things that seemed like big problems are nothing compared to what he went through."

MR. NICE, "THE BEST NEIPA"

Reid teamed up with First Line Brewing in Orchard Park to create his own IPA named Mr. Nice. According to a review by Brian Campbell of the Buffalo News, "Mr. Nice is a fruited New England IPA that has flavors of bright tropical hops and fruit, such as pineapple, pink guava and lemon. Head brewer Shane Stewart tells me this is the best NEIPA he's ever made."

FEAR THE BEARD

As just a sophomore in high school, Ford realized he had the ability to grow a full, thick beard. One would think it would have been the Louisiana heat that would have deterred him, but instead it was school rules.

"I was never allowed to have a beard. I was always getting in trouble for facial hair," Ford told the Norman Transcript. "I was like, 'Once I get outta here, I'm just gonna grow it.'"

Instead of the beard, Ford resorted to a outgrown mohawk with a blonde dye to be able to show off his personality in high school. He has since ditched that look.

However with Ford stepping in to replace NFL Draft pick Orlando Brown during the 2018 season, he did note that he wanted to add some more swag to the Sooners offensive line. "[Brown] wasn't really the swaggiest, but we ain't gonna say nothing," Ford joked, noting he's not so much into clothes, but when it comes to hair, "I get some cuts and it's. ... it's fresh."

"He is the reason why I started playing football. He is my biggest role model." His grandfather had the eye for talent as he was an former offensive lineman himself. "After he passed, my game definitely went up a level."

Ford continues to remember his grandfather on by using a #RIPPAPA on most of his posts.

COLLEGE LESSONS

Playing for a college that produced the likes of Ken Dorsey, Dan Morgan, Jon Feliciano and Jaquan Johnson, Miami Hurricanes get used to playing in big time football games. That certainly applied to Gauthier who noted in college the key is to not make things bigger than they need to be.

"There are a lot of games like this one that you know deep down that it means a lot more," Gauthier told the Herald-Tribune. "But preparation-wise, there's not much more added, but there's more on your own. More film, more training-room (work) to get your body ready."

Gauthier also learned during his collegiate career what it takes to win a position battle. After being moved to center, Gauthier had to square off with his college roommate, Nick Linder, for the job. "We looked at each other before camp and basically were like, 'We're going to make this a competition and whoever wins, wins,'" Gauthier said before going on to win the battle.

Buffalo is not the first time Josh Allen and Tanner Gentry have connected on the football field. Gentry was Allen's go to receiver in college and the duo totaled 1,326 yards on 72 completions. They had such a strong connection that Allen has to adjust after Gentry left for the NFL. "We had a good chemistry on the field. I always seemed to find him. If you looked at my highlight tape, it was basically his highlight tape too. We made a lot of good plays together," Allen said. The duo also shared a mutual drive to make it to the NFL. "We talked about it all the time," said Gentry of playing in the NFL. "We both knew that's what we had wanted to do. That was our goal. We wanted to help each other get there. We definitely talked about it a lot." "I think it was constantly a topic because of how much we both love football," Allen said. "He was a guy that I looked up to when I got there, as a role model, how hard he worked, how much he loved the game, the type of person he was. He was like an older brother to me in a way." Their bond extends well of the field and Allen was a groomsman in Gentry's wedding.

"It felt great. You live for that. You live to make a play," Giles-Harris told JaguarReport about the chance to get his first sack "You want to do something to stand out. And I think that was huge. FROM UNNOTICED TO NFL

Although Gilliam always had the passion to make it to the NFL, he mostly went unnoticed by college coaches.

According to Utrockets.com, "I started my recruitment process late. Coming out of high school, I didn't have many schools looking at me," said Gilliam.

"Toledo reached out around the third game into my senior season. It was the first school to reach out to me, and I decided to visit. I just fell in love with the place immediately, and decided to come to Toledo as a walk-on."

Gilliam enrolled at Toledo in 2015, but did not officially join the team until his second semester. A short time later, he was told he was no longer a running back, that he would now be playing tight end. "I had never played tight end before, so I knew it was going to be challenging."

STEVEN GONZALEZ joined the Bills in 2021 after spending time with the Arizona Cardinals during the 2020 offseason.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

DRIVEN BY TRAGEDY

Gonzalez never questions why he takes the field and who he plays for. From September 2013 to March 2015, he experienced tremendous loss losing his father, aunt and a high school teammate. Whenever he crosses those white lines, he wants to play in their memory. "I think it's made me grow up a little quicker," Gonzalez said to Penn Live. "It's definitely made me not take anyone I meet for granted. I always have a positive outlook on life. Always. It's a mindset. There are some days where you just want to break down. You don't want to do anything anymore, bum around, be all depressed. I can not let that happen for myself. I use football as an escape."

Gonzalez's father, Jorge, arrived in the U.S. from Cuba and fell in love with the game of football watching the Minnesota Vikings and their "Purple People Eaters" defensive lines. He passed this passion along to his son. "Coming from Cuba, he didn't know football at first," Gonzalez said. "Once he started watching it and learning it, that was his main sport. He knew a lot about football. He made us all into Vikings fans, so he made us suffer every year. He loved the D-line. It was his main focus every game."

RHYTHM AND TECHNIQUE

As the son of rapper and producer Warren G, music has played a big role in Griffin's life and openly admits it has helped him on the field. "You've got to have a good rhythm to have good technique as well," Griffin told the Daily Trojan. "And so once those two kick in, it's just like a beat just going in my head that just matches with my feet. And that's why I think I have great feet. And my rhythm is just on point."

"Music to me is just something that's always in my head. That's why people see me dancing on the sideline, because just being around music, just getting the rhythm, hearing beats, it's just something that makes me move, and that's something I love as well. The world wouldn't even be the same without music."

After hearing the news of his son joining the Bills, Warren G tweeted, "I'm rooting for my son to come there and make the team and add value to the mafia success. He is a true baller and built his own stage for himself. I'm just a dad supporting my Son."

FIRST-AND-10

MATT HAACK (pronounced HAWK) is in his first season in Buffalo after signing a three-year contract as an unrestricted free agent with the Bills in 2021. A left-footed punter, Haack originally joined the NFL as an undrafted free agent of the Dolphins in 2017 and spent his first four NFL seasons with Miami. The Arizona State product was a high school wide receiver.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

MOUNTAINEER SHOT

Haack became the 19th punter in NFL history to throw a touchdown pass and the first to throw it on a one-yard scoring play vs. Philadelphia in 2019.

It was also the first time in NFL history a kicker caught a touchdown pass from a punter.

The play was dubbed the "Mountaineer Shot" and it won the NFL Play of the Year Award at NFL honors.

A former running back, quarterback and receiver growing up, Haack is not a stranger to throwing passes.

"In college I had one fake punt pass that was completed and then one way, way back in the day when I was younger," Haack said.

WIDE RECEIVER TURNED PUNTER

During a freshman high school practice as a receiver at Dowling Catholic in West Des Moines, IA, Haack was fielding punts and was tired of throwing the ball back, so he punted one. It went well. The coaches eventually made him the team's punter. As college approached, his parents enrolled him in a kicking camp run by former Iowa State kicker Jamie Kohl. Haack then went on a week long tour of the country punting at Kohl's camps. He was spotted by Arizona State coach Todd Graham, who offered him a scholarship right away. "That's when it became real," Haack told the Buffalo News. "Four years later, I gave myself a chance to land a job in the NFL and was fortunate enough to win one."

USING HIS PLATFORM FOR GOOD

Reminiscing on his journey, Damar Hamlin decided that he wanted to use his platform to give back to others and created The Chasing M's Foundation. His first program was a toy drive in 2020.

He raised money on GoFundMe to purchase and donate toys to Kelly and Nina's Daycare Center in his hometown of McKees Rocks, Pennsylvania.

"The idea popped in my head right after Clemson week," Hamlin told the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette. "It sparked a thought in my head. But I actually couldn't do anything until after my eligibility was done as far as GoFundMe and all that. So it's been a solid week and a half of preparation for the toy drive. This was all able to happen off that short amount of time. That just goes to show the support that the town, the city, all of Pitt fans and the University of Pittsburgh, everyone that grew up watching me and knew my story personally and have been a part of it, that's just a testament to how much they support me."

FINDING CENTER

Like everyone else in the world, Marquel Harrell's world was turned upside down due to COVID-19.

In one of the most important times during his life, as he was searching to join an NFL team and move on to the next part of his career, Harrell had to find a way to keep himself sane. He began doing yoga in January and it ended up being the perfect help for him.

"One of my things that I felt like I had to improve on as a player was my flexibility," Harrell said to The Auburn Plainsman. "So, I just signed up for some classes in Auburn and I just have been hooked ever since the first class. And I just needed growth over the time and that was like implemented into my training sessions as well."

Between doing yoga at least four times a week, Harrell also focused on cooking healthy meals.

"I try and get a lot of fresh produce like apples and oranges and my vegetables and stuff," Harrell said. "Then I meal prep everything as far as food, like I might make pasta on Monday, and that'll stretch me for four days."

Hart has fond memories of his days growing up in Lauderdale and enjoying all the athletic programs and camps he attended as a child. Now, the 6-5 310-pound offensive lineman is taking the initiative to give back to the community he calls home. The Hart to Greatness Foundation recently hosted its inaugural youth football camp at the Lauderdale Sports Complex. Approximately 150 players, ages 7-14, attended the free football camp conducted by Hart, his father Chris, National Football League players and local coaches. "I just wanted to show the kids they can make something of themselves no matter where they come from and give them hope. It was a very good turnout for our first camp with fellow NFL players Ruben Carter (Miami Dolphins) and J.T. Thomas (Giants) helping out. The kids got to witness that if they work hard, they can go wherever they want in life. We spoke a lot about respecting your parents, who will always be there for you and be in your corner," Hart said. "The camp's expectations were easily exceeded and I'm already looking forward to next year. Every year we're going to do something for the kids and I want to do a high school camp next season."

Hester is forever a part of Philadelphia Eagles and NFL lore after he caused the famous "Double Doink" field goal miss by the Bears Cody Parkey in the 2018 NFL Playoffs.

The frustrating part for him? He didn't even get to see what happened. It wasn't until he saw the reaction from his teammates that he realized what had occurred.

"I didn't even see it bounce off," Hester said to The Morning Call. "I was so frustrated I thought I didn't get enough."

"It felt good," he said, "but to be honest I felt like I didn't get enough of it because when I looked back it looked like it was still on the right path, so when I looked back I'm like, 'Oh man, I didn't get enough.' A FAMILY DYNASTY

Back in 1998 while coaching San Jose State, Dave Baldwin let James Hodgins skip two practices for the birth of his son, Isaiah Hodgins. Fast forward 18 years and that decision paid off as Baldwin was now coaching Isaiah as the Oregon State WR coach. "Maybe I was just looking down the road, because I knew (Isaiah) was going to play for me," Baldwin said to Oregon Live. That decision paid off again when the youngest Hodgins, Isaac, also committed to Oregon State as he was intrigued at Isaiah and himself creating something of a family dynasty.

Both Isaiah and Isaac have benefited by being able to pick the brain of their father who played for eight NFL seasons, most famously paving the way for Marshall Faulk and the Rams 'Greatest Show on Turf'. James also oversaw their development by coaching the duo in high school. He recognized their talent, but made sure they knew it was going to come down to their work ethic. "The talent is there. The size is there," James said. "And then when you apply how hard they work, as a family we're expecting that it's going to be an exciting four or five years."

PERSONAL

Married to Maya and has a son, Isaiah Hodgins Jr. Is the son of James and Stephanie Hodgins. Has two brothers and a sister. His brother, Isaac, also plays college football at Oregon State. His dad enjoyed a eight year NFL playing career as a fullback for the Rams, Cardinals and Jets.

TIED AT THE HIP

Hodgins' brother, Isaac Hodgins is just 370 days younger than Isaiah, but the two have been joined at the hip throughout their childhood and their football careers which included a chance to play together at Oregon State. "When I was young, I didn't talk very much until I was like four-years old," said Isaac. "The only person I would talk to was Isaiah. So if I was hungry or something I would ask him for some food and then Isaiah would ask my parents for the food. So, that was just our relationship. We walked to school together. We did everything together."

FOLLOWING DAD'S FOOTSTEPS

When your dad plays eight years in the NFL, expectations are high for you to produce on the gridiron. That wasn't initially the case with Isaiah. "I wasn't good at all and I'm pretty sure my dad, probably was mad on the inside," Hodgins said. "Being an NFL player and then seeing his son not be very good at football. I know it was probably rough for him." He had flipped the script by the time he arrived in high school though, tallying three consecutive 1,000-yard receiving seasons from his sophomore to senior seasons en route to a scholarship at Oregon State and being drafted by the Bills.

CHASING A DREAM TOGETHER

The NFL was always the dream for Jacob Hollister, but he wasn't the only member of his family chasing that dream. So was his twin brother, Cody.

After spending part of their college career together at Arizona Western Community College and spending part of their college careers at different schools, both Hollister brothers went undrafted in 2017. In a twist that was well received by both, the Hollister's were both offered a chance to break in to the league with the New England Patriots.

"We didn't even dream about being on the same team because it's so unfathomable, that now that it did happen, it's like 'wow,'" Cody told CBS 4 in Boston. "We didn't even ask for this much and it happened this way."

The twins spent two seasons together before Jacob moved to the Seahawks and Cody to the Titans, but they continue to support each other and hope to one day play together again.

NEW POSITION, NEW JOURNEY

After playing quarterback since the age of 4, it was a big shock for Hollister when Tom Minnick, his coach at Arizona Western, told him he was switching positions to tight end following the end of spring practices in 2013. He had never played tight end or even thought about playing tight end. "I told him I want to call my father who I thought would be really pissed off," recalled Hollister, a state championship quarterback in high school. "Instead, he was great. He told me I always knew you would be a tight end. He was so confident in me and that alone helped me a great deal. I got to work right away with my brother, who taught me how to get into a receiver's stance."

In 2014, Hollister hosted a junior college quarterback on a campus visit to Wyoming. His head coach at Wyoming told him that they really needed to get this player to help our program and that I would be a good resource for him because he came from a junior college program. That quarterback was Josh Allen from Reedley College. Hollister hosted Allen at his house in Thaxton and they hung out and had some pizza. "One of the biggest things I remember is that he wanted to show me his highlight tape on his phone," laughingly recalled Hollister. "Right there and then I knew this kid was confident and had ice in his veins. After watching it, I honestly couldn't believe we were the only school to offer him. I'm glad we did."

THE BUG MAN

Raised in small town Rochelle, Georgia, Johnathan Howard has been known as "Bug" his whole life. When he used to bother his grandmother, she started calling him Bug and the name stuck.

"I stay in a small town," Howard told Dawg Nation. "Having that name in a small town, everybody'd hear my Grandma call me Bug, so my friends would call me Bug. Then it just caught on. Then, when college coaches started coming to recruit me, they'd come to the school and ask for Johnathan. (School officials would) say, 'Who's Johnathan?' They'd figure it out and say, 'Oh, you're talking about 'Bug.' So I carried that to college."

NEW POSITION

Bug Howard played wide receiver his whole career, starting as a highly rated recruit and ending up leading North Carolina in touchdowns during his senior season. After bouncing to a few teams in the NFL, he spent time in the AAF before coming back to the NFL as a tight end.

Hughes entered the NFL as a first round pick (31st overall) of the Colts in 2010. A dynamic pass rusher, he has registered a team-high 51 sacks and 14 forced fumbles since 2013. "THE REST IS HISTORY"

After rushing for 1,412 yards and 19 TDs as a high school senior, Hughes was recruited as a running back. He chose to attend TCU to join Gary Patterson's squad as an "athlete." Not knowing what that completely meant, Hughes showed up to his locker one day to find a jersey with the number 98 on it. "I thought it meant I was redshirted or something," recalled Hughes. "I had no idea I was going to play defensive end. Heck, I never played defense before in my life. Ever. What coach told me was that I have a better shot at playing 10 years in the NFL as a defensive end than maybe like three years as a running back. So I had to put some weight on my 210-pound body and the rest is history." Hughes went on to finish his career at TCU with 28.5 sacks.

POSITIVE CHANGE

In 2020, Hughes was a key driver in the Bills social justice efforts in conjunction with the City of Buffalo leadership team. Their platform included closing the digital divide, encouraging census participation, and voter education.

"A lot of our lives have been impacted by the coronavirus, so it gave us plenty of time to reflect not only on our lives but a lot that was going on around the country," Hughes said. "We felt like, once we got together as a team, how could we come together as a team and cause some positive change and actually come up with a solution?"

HORNED FROG HALL OF FAMER

Hughes was named to the TCU Hall of Fame in 2020 as he was one of two players in program history to be a two-time consensus first-team All-American (2008 and 2009). He led the nation with 15 sacks in 2008 and posted 11.5 sacks in 2009. Hughes won the Ted Hendricks Award as the nation's top defensive end and the Lott IMPACT Trophy in 2009. Upon learning of this honor Hughes tweeted, "Pinch me I must be dreaming! What an honor it is to be mentioned with these TCU greats! God is amazing, and this just proves ANYTHING IS POSSIBLE!!!"

FIRST-AND-10

MICAH HYDE signed a two-year contract extension with the Bills in 2021, tying him to the team through 2023. He originally joined the Bills as a free agent in 2017 after spending his first four NFL seasons in Green Bay. Hyde was a 5th round pick of the Packers in 2013.

COUNTED OUT

"I have always been overlooked." And it's something Hyde takes a lot of pride in and it fuels his desire to be the best. Recruited only by Iowa and MAC schools, he committed to Iowa on the last day of the signing period. "When I was a free agent, Buffalo was the only team that was interested. It all keeps me working. I'm never the one to look for pats on the back."

NO DEBT

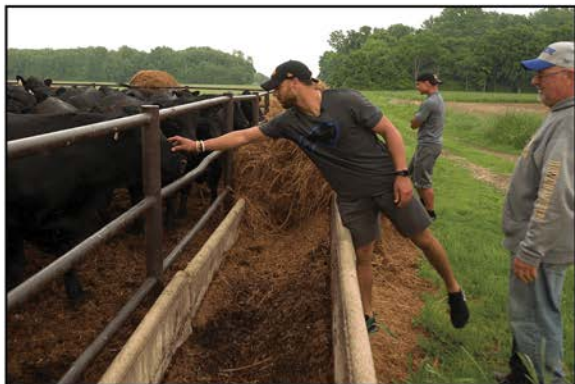

Hyde's foundation, IMagINE For Youth, stepped up for his hometown of Fostoria, OH in December by paying off $1,485 of Fostoria City School lunch debt that helped 167 children in the district. "Micah is a product of where he comes from and he worked really hard getting to where he is. And I think he is fortunate, obviously, to be an NFL player and to be able to be fortunate like that and be able to give back to your community. I think that's a mark of an outstanding individual," said Tracy Troxel (from IMagINE For Youth).

PERSONAL

He and his wife, Amanda, were married on July 7, 2018. The couple welcomed a son, Micah Jr., in March 2020. Son of Pamela Moore and his stepfather Clayton Moore. His brother, Marcus, was a safety at Michigan State from 2007-10. In high school, earned first-team, all-state honors as a quarterback. Graduated with a degree in recreation and sports business.

IMAGINE FOR YOUTH FOUNDATION

Took an idea that began as part of a class project in college and started the IMagI Ne for Youth Foundation, an organization that collected sporting goods and donated them to local charities in Iowa. The foundation has continued on with its work in other states. "I believe sports are a gateway to learning how to be successful in life," said Hyde. [imagineforyouth.org]

BENEFITING BUFFALO

Hyde hosted a charity softball game in June 2019 to support his IMagI Ne for Youth Foundation, while also helping him and his teammates grow closer together. The game generated more than $40,000 which will be given back to the Buffalo community. The two teams pitted the offense against the defense, with the defense emerging victorious 8-7.

HYDE'S GREEN THUMB

Growing up in a single family home, Hyde was mentored by a family friend, Ken Watson (pictured with Hyde above), who operated a farm in Tiffin, Ohio. Micah worked for Watson at that farm. "He taught me the value of the dollar and what hard work can do for you. I'd wake up early in the morning and do all sorts of jobs like baling straw, moving boulders, and cutting down trees."

It would not be a stretch to drive by Hyde's house now and see him outside gardening, mulching, or planting. "I'm really meticulous about how everything looks outside. I take a great deal of pride in that. Honestly, being so detail-oriented correlates with how I try to live my life as a whole. I learned those skills and other life lessons from working on that farm."

TWO SPORTS, TWO SCHOOLS

Jackson began playing football at the age of 7 for the West Pittsburgh Steelers in a youth league. As a freshman at Cornell High School, he played defensive back and wide receiver. After his school dropped its football program, Jackson played for nearby Quaker Valley High School through a cooperative program between the two schools.

Jackson eventually became the team's starting quarterback during his junior season of 2013 at Quaker Valley and led the school to its first playoff berth since 1999. He rushed for 1,111 yards and 9 TDs, while throwing for 975 yards and 13 TDs.

Meanwhile Jackson continued to star on Cornell's basketball team and averaged 28 points per game as a senior. He scored a school-record 51 points in a win against Rochester.

According to the Beaver County Times, Jackson became the 8th WPIAL athlete to land a major college football scholarship while finishing in the top 5 in scoring in basketball, joining NFL players Darrelle Revis, Terrelle Pryor and Bruce Gradkowski.

"SHE SHOWED ME WHAT RESILIENCY IS"

Raising four children as a single mother in Pittsburgh while working as a paralegal, Joy Faulkner has had a tremendous impact on her family, especially Dane. "She showed me what the definition of strong is," reflected Jackson. "She showed me what resiliency is. She always kept everything right for us. We knew she had a lot going on, but she made sure we always had a roof over our heads and food on the table for us. She cooked every night. And my favorite meal was shrimp alfredo. One day, I plan to do something really special for her."

"HE BROUGHT OUT MY REAL TRUE TALENT"

Jackson is quick to credit the lessons he learned from his coach, Ed Dawson, at Cornell High School. "He honestly taught me to believe in myself and he brought out my real true talent," recalled Jackson. "He made it a competition every single day of practice, especially against my cousin [Dorian Maynard] who I was living with along with my aunt at the time. Coach would always say, who is going to get the biggest piece of chicken tonight? I wouldn't be here without him." Maynard went on to play collegiately at Division III Muskingum University in Ohio.

In the offseason, Jackson works with Pittsburgh-based speed trainer DeWayne Brown of 2/10ths Speed and Agility. In fact, he has worked with Brown since he was in seventh grade. Brown has trained more than 35 players who have reached the NFL, including Rams All-Pro DT Aaron Donald, a fellow Pittsburgh alum.

"He's always been like a role model to the young guys around Pittsburgh," Jackson told the Buffalo News about Donald. "He's a blueprint. He shows us the way. Working out with him just gets us better."

According to Brown, Donald especially likes training with Jackson. "Because Dane pushes him," Brown told the Buffalo News. "Because Aaron is getting older now and he needs somebody to push him."

MEMORABLE MEMENTO

After getting his first NFL sack as a rookie in a win at Tennessee in 2019, Johnson received a congratulatory text from Courtney Coard, his former defensive line coach at North Carolina A&T. Coard got something in return that he won't soon forget - Johnson's signed, game-worn jersey from that game.

"That meant a lot to him," Johnson told Sal Capaccio of WGR. "The look on his face, you could just tell the way it kind of touched his heart a little bit. I was just happy to give it to him, and I told him thank you for everything he had done for me, for believing in me, and working with me every day and getting me better."

Coard was proud to talk about his prized pupil, "He was the first one on the field and last one to leave every day. He stayed after for film work. He worked on his weaknesses and acted like a pro from day one."

HIGH SCHOOL MUSICAL CHAIRS

In order to try to get playing time, Johnson attended three different high schools: Savannah Christian Preparatory School, Jenkins HS in Savannah, and Camden County HS in Kingsland, GA, where he lived with an aunt. "My high school story is just crazy," he recalled. With minimum film to send to colleges, he needed Camden's coach Welton Coffey (pictured above) to help convince North Carolina A&T to give him a scholarship. "It was my only option out there and I planned to make the most of the opportunity," Johnson said. "I was so grateful."

"CRAZY" HARD WORK

Every day at 4:30 a.m., Darryl Johnson Sr., would routinely wake up his two sons, Darryl, Jr. (12 years old at the time) and Darvaughn (who was 9), to get a morning workout. It involved running with and without parachutes attached to their backs as well as cone and ladder drills. "I was always a guy that believed in work," Darryl Sr. told the Buffalo News. "So that's what I was teaching them at a young age." Recalled Darryl, Jr., "We talk about it now. I'm like, 'Dad, you were crazy, that was crazy.' But it got me here."

IMPORTANCE OF A MENTOR

Johnson learned the importance of having a good mentor throughout his time at Miami, where he became close with the Pro Football Hall of Fame nominee, Ed Reed.

A fellow Hurricane alum, Reed would often visit practice and Johnson knew he wanted to pick Reed's brain.

"When I saw him for the first time, I was nervous, nervous to say anything to him. I'd seen him one time at our pro day my freshman year and I didn't say anything. I was like, 'I missed my opportunity,'" Johnson told the Sun Sentinel. "But I was able to get another opportunity when he came to our Paradise Camp. I said, 'Hey, Ed, what's up?' [Safeties coach Ephraim Banda] was really the reason I decided to go over there and talk to him. If it wasn't for that, I probably would have still been quiet."

Reed and Johnson became close, with Reed teaching Johnson to be himself, always participate and take good notes.

FIRST-AND-10

TARON JOHNSON arrived at the Bills in 2018 after spending time as a four-year starter at Weber State. Johnson was the 121st overall selection in the fourth round by the Bills and he became the first Weber State player to be selected in the NFL Draft since 2010.

FAMILY MOTIVATION

Taron Johnson has never needed to look very far to find the motivation he needed to push himself harder in his athletic pursuits. Johnson's older sister, Treana, earned All-American honors at BYU in track and field and since she was three years older, Taron was always chasing after her accomplishments.

His family motivation goes deeper than just the athletic accomplishments of his sister.

Taron uses the loss of his mother at the age of 9 as his main desire to make his family proud. Trina Johnson passed away from breast cancer in 2005.

"It was definitely a shock. It didn't seem real at the time...It was just very weird. It seemed like a dream. She's inspirational for sure. She introduced me to the game, and I'm thankful for it," Johnson said to WKBW in 2018. "I feel like I play for her."

Trina pushed Taron to try football at the age of 6 and is his driving force still today.

PERSONAL

Taron (TARE-in) is the son of Baron Johnson, who served in the Air Force. His mother, Trina, passed away from breast cancer in 2005. He studied criminal justice while at Weber State.

A CLOSE BOND

Due to the unfortunate passing of his mother, Trina, when Taron was 9, Taron and his father, Baron, formed a very close relationship that has helped make Taron the man he is today. Taron credits his father for showing him the meaning of hard work and that anything could be accomplished if he worked hard enough.

"If there is something he instilled in me at a very young age, it was my work ethic and learning from my mistakes. That's how I got here," Johnson told BuffaloBills.com.

COMMITMENT TO EDUCATION

Taiwan Jones' biggest obstacle that he had to overcome on the way to success in the NFL wasn't a physical one, but a mental one. Colleges had no difficulty identifying Taiwan as a special talent during his high school days, but a low grade-point average kept him from receiving an scholarship offers from a Division I school. It wasn't until halfway through his senior year of high school that he was diagnosed with the learning disorder dyslexia.

Jones told The Mercury News that once he learned of his diagnosis, things began to click for him. "It always made me feel smaller," Jones said. "I was struggling, while people were telling me, 'You should get this. What's the problem?' Now things are easier because I know that I can learn; I just need more help."

PERSONAL

Jones has five brothers and one sister. In his spare time, he breeds pit bulls and has two of his own - Tytus and Kookie. He says that his family as a whole is the biggest influence on his career. In his free time, he also enjoys playing paintball and four-wheeling.

ADOPTING A FAMILY

AJ and Taylor had no preference on race when adopting a child. According to Myarklamiss.com "We had no idea what our son was going to look like, and meeting him he was so familiar," Taylor said. Though, the couple admitted raising a black son will eventually come with its challenges. 'Obviously, there are a lot of injustices in this world and we know that raising him is going to be different than raising her [Bowie], simply based on the color of his skin. And it's going to be difficult for us,' AJ said."

VOTED CAPTAIN

Upon arriving in New Orleans, it didn't take long for his new teammates to notice his leadership. According to Nola.com, "Klein established himself as a leader almost immediately. Radiating an internal intensity, Klein asserted himself as a vocal presence on the practice field, earning enough respect that the Saints voted him a team captain before he'd ever played a down in the regular season. 'Being able to have the opportunity to be a starter and being voted a captain, it's a huge honor, being put that in the leadership role, I'm trying to fully embrace it.'"

The son of Jean and the late Len Klein. Has a wife, Taylor. They had a daughter named Bowie in July 2019, after adopting a son named Cannon James in January 2019. He had two dogs. Majored in Kinesiology-Physical Therapy at Iowa State.

FROM QB TO TE

Going from being a walk-on to being a top NFL Draft prospect isn't an easy thing to do. To make matters even harder, Knox did it by switching from quarterback to tight end along the way during his redshirt season as a freshman.

According to the Clarion Ledger, Knox barely factored into the Rebels' plan his redshirt freshman year — he played in six games, all on special teams, but by the next season, Knox was the favorite to start at tight end.

"It really made me work even harder I feel like," Knox told the Ledger, "just going to work and practice every day with the mentality that I've got to earn my stripes and prove that I'm supposed to be here. So I think it really has given me an edge that I wouldn't have had if I had a scholarship right off the bat."

At the end of Knox's junior year of high school, he was only 5' 10", 160 pounds, and he shot up during his senior year, making the switch at Ole Miss more ideal.

PERSONAL

The son of David, a financial planner, and Rachel Knox, Dawson has three brothers and one sister. He majored in Managerial Finance while at Ole Miss. His mom ran track at Tennessee and his dad played basketball at Belmont.

FAMILY MAN

Knox has a very close relationship with his family. The oldest of 5 kids, his brother Luke and sister Lucy are biological siblings, while his younger brothers Nate and Isaiah are adopted. The family originally started fostering Nate and Isaiah, then made the decision to adopt and haven't looked back.

Along with being close to his siblings, Knox lists his father as his role model because he always gives great advice and knows exactly what to say.

ISAIAH 40:31

A devout Christian, Knox has a small tattoo on the inside of his right forearm that is the Hebrew symbol for wait. It was inspired by the bible verse, Isaiah 40:31.

"But they that wait upon the LORD shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint."

To Knox, the tattoo reminds him to wait with hope for what's to come.

MAKING THE LEAP

Transitioning from Division III football to the NFL may seem like a long-shot to most people, but Kumerow had been a long-shot before. Prior to playing Division III, he walked on at the University of Illinois.

According to ESPN, "I never changed my thought process," Kumerow said. "It was a little bit of a bummer. I was at Illinois for two years with Ron Zook and then I go to a D-III school. I'm like, 'I hope I can still make it' because it might be a little tougher to come out of a D-III school. At the same time, I can't think like that. I'm thinking about my next game, thinking about trying to get better with my team, trying to win championships. So, I hoped for the best and hoped it'd all play out."

Coming from a football family, Jake was destined to play professional football. FIRST-AND-10

FORREST LAMP joined the Bills in 2021 after spending the past four seasons with the Los Angeles Chargers (2017-20). Lamp originally entered the NFL as a second round pick in 2017 with the Chargers after a five-year career at Western Kentucky (2012-17).

LAMP LIGHTER

Lamp's surname almost instantly became profitable for him upon reaching the NFL as leading up to his rookie draft he was approached by a lighting company, Lamps Plus, to sign an endorsement deal. Lamp quickly agreed. "The opportunity to partner with Lamps Plus before my rookie NFL season, especially with my last name, is the perfect scenario," said Lamp in a statement put out by Lamps Plus.

This past December, Lamps' first signature lamp was released: The Forrest Sequoia. "This Forrest lamp is awesome – it looks like a forest tree trunk, perfect for my name, of course. The lamp and the wicker shade are definitely my style," Lamp said upon the items release. "You can't go wrong adding the Forrest lamp to your place. I've dreamed of having my own signature shoe, so having a Lamps Plus lamp with my name is right up there. Because a lamp is used almost daily, it's crucial."

DREAMS TO REALITY

Getting drafted into the NFL is also an emotional moment for upcoming prospects, but the moment meant even more to Marquel and his family. Lee's father, Corey, was both immensely proud and, it so happens, a lifelong Raiders fan. "He might've been more excited than I was," Marquel told CSNBayArea.com. "He started bawling. I've never seen my dad cry like that."

"I'm as die-hard as they get," Corey Lee told CSNBayArea.com. "When they called his name in the fifth round, it was such a great, powerful moment. There was some relief, because he worked so hard and sacrificed to reach this point. When families were on vacation, we were in summer camps and working out hard. Everything we did was to prepare him for the next level. I was so proud to see him achieve a goal he had."

"There's a picture of me in a Raiders jersey, pants and a helmet on my second birthday," Marquel added. "I look at it now and think, 'Wow. It really happened.' I'm wearing a Raiders uniform for real. My dream is becoming a reality."

FIGHTING THROUGH

After a highly productive high school career at Crete-Monee in Crete, Illinois, Lenoir was hoping to end up at a big time school, but the offers never came.

He decided to bet on himself and took a chance on Western Illinois and the results paid off big time as he set multiple school records and has earned his way to his shot in the NFL.

"I'm very thankful to be in this position," Lenoir said to the Chicago Tribune while at Western Illinois. "To come in and play as a true freshman, break some records and play my part to help this team win, it's a blessing."

Producing the way he did at Western Illinois after being considered too slow and undersized serves as the motivation as Lenoir continues to chase his dream in the NFL.

"I've put in a lot of hard work," Lenoir said. "I've played with a chip on my shoulder. But ultimately, you have to out there and have fun."

PERSONAL

The son of Lance and J Evelyn Lenoir, Lance majored in law enforcement justice administration while at Western Illinois. Has a younger brother named Landon who played at Southern Illinois.

FIRST-AND-10

CAMERON (CAM) LEWIS joined the Buffalo Bills in 2019 after a four-year career at University of Buffalo. A Michigan native, Lewis entered the NFL as an undrafted free agent to the Bills.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

BASEBALL PAST

Lewis spent most of his life as a baseball standout, rather than a football star. Up until his junior year of high school, he was splitting time between baseball and football with his focus being more on baseball.

He participated in both club and school baseball, and his club team was so successful that they made it to the RBI National Championship.

"The most memorable game of my career was the RBI regional championship trying to make nationals," Lewis said. "The team was down 5 in the last inning and we rallied to win. It was played on the Cleveland Indians field."

It wasn't until his junior year of high school that his football coach, John Pittman, asked him to really give football a shot. Lewis listened and Pittman became a mentor for the high school running back turned college defensive back. He became the first player from his high school to play at a Division I school.

PERSONAL

The son of Ernest and Yvonne Lewis, Cameron has two older brothers, Ernest Jr. and Brandon. He majored in African American Studies while at Buffalo. He hopes to one day work with adoption agencies and foster homes because he believes every child should have a home.

FIRST-AND-10

STAR LOTULELEI is entering his third season in Buffalo after playing five seasons with the Carolina Panthers (2013-17). The defensive tackle was drafted by the Panthers in the 1st round (14th overall) of the 2013 NFL draft.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

A NEAR MISS

A first round draft pick in 2013 and one of the top acquisitions of the 2018 free agent class, it seems hard to believe that Lotulelei nearly never even played football past the high school level.

After graduating from Bingham High School, Lotulelei actually gave up football and took a job working from 9-to-5 at a furniture delivery company.

Lotulelei quickly realized that lifestyle was one he wouldn't be satisfied with and enrolled at Snow Junior College.

While he was back on the gridiron, things did not really click for Lotulelei until he met his soon-to-be wife, Fuiva, and the couple had their first daughter, Arilani. Lotulelei credits becoming a father to Arilani with helping him recognize what was important and committing to football.

PERSONAL

Lotulelei (lo-too-leh-lay) is the son of Star and Pesatina Lotulelei and is the oldest of ten children. His brother, Lowell, also played football for Utah. Star and his wife Fuiva have four children. While at Utah, Lotulelei majored in Sociology. He met his wife while at Snow, where she was a volleyball player.

MOMMA'S BOY

Love makes it clearly known that his mother is the biggest influence on him and his career to this point. Raising four boys by herself while working as an insurance claims agent, Love noticed and appreciated all that Shalonda Love did for her children.

"She is a wonderful woman," Love said. "She is always on me about my manners. Always made sure I said yes sir, no sir. She also helps me find positives in every negative situation. She has been through a lot and I will do everything I can for her."

While keeping a close relationship with his mother, Love finally met his father in 2015. He did not know who he was growing up, until the two found each other when Mike was in college.

SHOW YOUR SOFT SIDE

Off the football field, one of Matakevich's biggest passions is hanging out with his dog, Bailey. That passion extends to Matakevich working with animal adoption campaigns and supporting Show Your Soft Side.

Per the organization's website, Show Your Soft Side is a public service campaign that was created to change the mindset of young people who all-too-often view the maiming and torturing of defenseless cats and dogs as a sign of "toughness" or "manhood." They use athletes and actors to spread the message that compassion toward animals is a sign of strength, not weakness.

Matakevich appeared in advertisements with his dog Bailey along with the message, "Only a punk would hurt a cat or dog."

Matakevich adopted Bailey when he first became involved with the organization and did a photoshoot in Philadelphia in 2016 with Bailey and four other 8-week-old puppies in need of a home.

PERSONAL

The son of David and Kim Matakevich, Tyler has an older sister named Ashley. Has two dogs named Cash and Bailey. Lives with his fiancée, Shannon.

HIGH PRAISE FROM BURRIS

Former Notre Dame star and Bills 1994 first round pick Jeff Burris had some high praise for McCloud.

"I think his leadership capabilities," Burris responded to the South Bend Tribune when asked what stands out about McCloud. "As a young man, he walks into a room and he has that charisma about him, that quiet confidence. He's a well-liked, well-respected young man. Well-spoken young man. He's very knowledgeable in all aspects of life."

Burris, now the defensive backs coach at Louisiana Tech, knows McCloud well as they both grew up in Rock Hill, SC. Burris' brother, Pat, coached him in high school and McCloud became close with Burris' kids.

McCloud has also been aided by another Rock Hill native Stephon Gilmore, another former Bills draft pick. "[We] are close as ever," McCloud said. "Having that relationship with him being defensive player of the year and the press corner he is, if I have a question, I can go in the locker room, text him and he'll hit me back right away. That relationship and knowledge of the game is definitely beneficial to me."

A KEY INFLUENCE

When the Broncos called McKenzie's phone during the 2017 NFL Draft it brought overwhelming emotions to not only Isaiah, but his grandmother as well. He credits her with keeping him and his siblings on the right path and out of trouble growing up.

"My grandma kept us on the right path," McKenzie said of himself and his siblings. "She did everything she had to do to be a great parent. I wouldn't say I followed every rule in the book, but whatever she told me I knew it was important. I took heed to when she told me something."

McKenzie's grandmother even went so far as to find a new job at American Heritage HS and take an hour long bus ride daily at 5:30 AM with Isaiah to give him the best opportunity to take advantage of his unique talents on the football field. Everything eventually paid off as McKenzie received multiple D-I offers.

FIRST-AND-10

MATT MILANO signed a four year contract extension with the Bills in 2021, extending his stay in Buffalo after originally being drafted by the team in the fifth round (163rd overall) out of Boston College in 2017. During the 2020 season, the Bills went 10-0 in games Milano played.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

OVERCOMING THE ODDS

Milano grew up in a football hotbed in Florida and was a three-star recruit when he began to look at college. During his senior year, he was named Orlando Sentinel's Defensive Player of the Year and opted to take his talents to Boston College. The transition was not seamless however, and he only logged five tackles during his freshman season. Milano says that the transition from different levels of football is the biggest obstacle he has had to overcome. The jump from college to NFL was also a tough challenge for the linebacker, but Milano made the most of it, earning a starting role by the end of the 2017 season.

FACETIMING WITH FAMILY

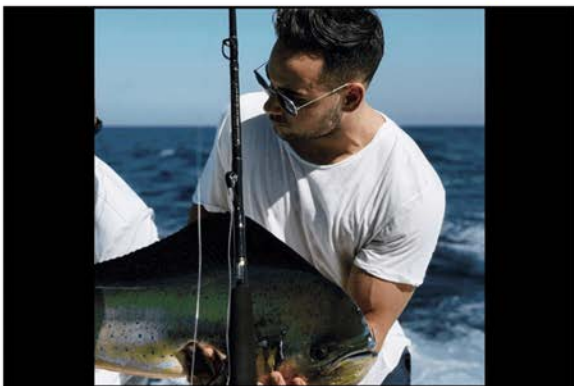

Milano was a consistent impact player on the Bills' defense throughout the 2018 season, but unfortunately suffered a season-ending injury against the Jets with three games remaining in the season. The following week, the Bills beat the Lions 14-13 and Milano was unable to attend due to the injury. After the game, the team faceted with Milano and he broke down the team following Coach McDermott's post-game speech.

PERSONAL

Born July 28, 1994 in Orlando, Florida, Matt is the son of Mike, a pharmaceutical sales manager, and Janet Milano. Matt graduated with degrees in Psychology and Communications from Boston College. He has a brother, Michael, and sister, Gina.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

WORLD TRAVELER

In his free time, Milano enjoys traveling, not only throughout the country, but all over the world. He has been to Costa Rica (pictured above) and hopes to one day travel the globe.

"It's important getting out from the bubble you live in at the time and experiencing something new," Milano told the Buffalo News, "seeing somebody else's culture, what they kind of do during the day, who's around there, and just meeting new people."

CHECK OUT THESE BLADES

Milano and Gabriel Davis teamed up during the 2020 season to give eight-year-old Jackson DeLude a gift and memory that will last a lifetime. Milano and Davis provided DeLude and his family with the opportunity to travel from Buffalo to Orlando, FL to be fitted for a set of prosthetic blades and a trip to Disney World. "We thought it was a great thing to do for Jackson," Milano said to ESPN at the time. "Christmas time, it was a chance to give back to the community -- especially someone from Buffalo. ... This was a quick thing. We learned about it and in the next couple days, he was doing his thing."

FIRST-AND-10

QUINTIN MORRIS was signed by the Bills as an undrafted free agent following the 2021 draft. A former wide receiver turned tight end, he finished his four-year college career at Bowling Green with 125 catches for 1,529 yards.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

BEST DECISION

Bowling Green coach Scot Loeffler told the Toledo Blade regarding his move to tight end: "He always did things the right way. When he got moved over from wide receiver to tight end, he embraced it. That probably was the best decision he ever made. He's also a good student."

BASKETBALL BACKGROUND

A two-sport athlete growing up in Richmond, TX, Morris credits his basketball skills with helping him on the football field. Morris told the USA Today, "It definitely helps a lot. I played basketball since first grade, almost the same time I started playing football at a young age. I feel like basketball teaches you a lot of movements with your body that otherwise you probably wouldn't get, just playing football. Just being able to play basketball for a majority of my life allows me to move and jump, and you use some of those techniques, especially when you're going up for a ball, whether it's boxing out and understanding depth perception. Going up for a ball is almost like rebounding. It really helps, and I think that's why you think of a lot of good tight ends these days, they almost all have a basketball background, and it helps them with their footwork and attacking the ball."

FIRST-AND-10

MITCH MORSE entered the NFL in 2015 as a second round pick (49th overall) of the Kansas City Chiefs out of Missouri. Morse spent the first four seasons of his career in Kansas City before joining the Bills in 2019.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

A HARSH REALITY

A four-year-old Morse was forced into a harsh reality breaking him from what he called "a life of rainbows and pizza." On April 1, 1996, Morse's brother, Robbie, suffered a debilitating brain injury after being violently shaken by a babysitter. "There's no words to describe all the symptoms," Morse told the Kansas City Star.

Despite the life-altering tragedy, Morse feels that he wouldn't be the same person today without having gone through the experience. "I have soft spots. I don't think I would be quite the person I am today ... without that tragedy happening to my brother. People say it's a cross to bear, but he hasn't been a burden at all. He's been a blessing," Morse said.

Morse's father, Kevin, summed up the circumstances nearly perfectly when reflecting on how Mitch went from always being there for his brother to playing offensive line. "Isn't that the aesthetic of an offensive lineman? Isn't that the ethos of kind of what you look for when you want to have somebody doing the thankless job?" said Kevin Morse.

PERSONAL

The son of Kevin & Catherine Morse. Has a younger brother Robbie. Married to the former Caitlin Wilson and they have a daughter named Kennedy.

GIVING BACK

When faced head on with the COVID-19 crisis, Morse and his wife, Caitlin, racked their brains to see how they could help.

They decided to donate $100,000 to FeedMore WNY, formerly Meals on Wheels and the Food Bank.

"We couldn't give our services," Morse said to the Buffalo News. "We couldn't go out and help in the community hands-on. So we decided that the best plan of action was to set aside a little bit of money to send to FeedMore."

PREP WORK

The center position is often viewed as the leader of the offensive line and Mitch tries to fill that role. He learned from Mitchell Schwartz in Kansas City about how important the little things are and he has tried to pass that along to his new teammates.

"I just like to do my job, man," Morse said in his introductory press conference. "I like to help the quarterback as much as I can, help get the offense going the right way and not be a detriment to the team. That's just playing hard. It starts with your preparation, and I pride myself every week on my preparation."

FIRST-AND-10

ZACK MOSS was drafted by the Bills in the third round (86th overall) of the 2020 draft. He is the first player in Utah history with three 1,000-yard seasons (1,416 in 2019, 1,096 in 2018 and 1,173 in 2017). He was also named 2018 Second-Team All-Pac-12.

DEGREE COMES FIRST

Most people jump at the opportunity to get drafted in the NFL, especially when they are publicly known to be a second round pick. However, Moss had bigger aspirations he wanted tackle before making the next jump in his football career.

According to Heavy.com, "the reason he didn't forgo his senior year at Utah to join the NFL Draft, in which he was already guaranteed to be a second round pick, he wanted to earn his bachelor's degree, win the PAC-12 Championship, and play in the College Football Playoffs.

"If we didn't have the team that we're going to have this upcoming season, I probably would have taken a different route," Moss said. "But all of those things lining up, I just felt like I could do without the money right now.

I didn't want to have any regrets at the end of the day about not finishing up here and leaving things on the table. When I came here, my goal was to be the best running back of all time and be one of the best players to ever walk through this university," he continued. "Having the opportunity to do that, it's something I couldn't pass up on."

Now in his second season in the NFL, Moss has looked to grow his influence both off the field and on the field.

In his newest venture, Moss is launching his own podcast, "The Moss Mode Show."

Moss will talk about a wide array of topics including sports, culture, latest events and more with athletes and artists as he takes fans inside his world.

GIVING BACK TO UTAH

The COVID-19 pandemic brought a lot of inequalities to light and one that really stood out to Moss was the food insecurity that people dealt with back in Utah, where he attended college.

With that in mind, Moss became involved with the Utah Food Bank and helped raise money to support their mission of making sure nobody in Utah goes hungry. In addition to donating himself, Moss took to social media to encourage donations and raffled off a pair of autographed cleats.

FIRST-AND-10

SIRAN NEAL arrived in Buffalo after spending four seasons at Jacksonville State (2013-17). A back-to-back First-Team All-Ohio Valley selection in 2016-17, Neal was the 154th selection of the fifth round by the Bills in 2018.

CHANGE FOR THE BETTER

Back during his high school playing days with the Eufaula High Yellow Jackets, Neal was an All-State wide receiver in both 2012 and 2011, when he totaled 76 receptions and 21 touchdowns.

Upon arriving at Jacksonville State, the Gamecock coaches switched Neal over to the defensive side of the ball and put him at linebacker. The switch paid off when in 2016 he made 80 tackles, 11.5 for loss, an interception and four pass break-ups to become an All-Conference selection.

Despite how well he performed at the linebacker position, Gamecock coaches again asked him to switch positions in 2017 and moved him back to the safety position.

Adept at finding ways to help the team win, Neal embraced the change telling the Gadsden Times, "I love it. It's something different for me, but I'll get the job done. They put me out there so I have to perform my task."

EFE OBADA (pronounced EF-ay OH-bah-dah) joined the Bills in 2021 after spending the past four seasons with the Carolina Panthers. Prior to joining the Panthers as part of the International Player Pathway Program in 2017, he spent time with the Dallas Cowboys, Kansas City Chiefs and Atlanta Falcons.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

SERVING AS HOPE

Obada's story of coming from Nigeria to the Netherlands to living in foster care in London to a shot at the NFL is incredible and has been told countless times in the media. While it's not all he wants to be known for, he is happy to serve as an inspiration to anyone who has struggled.

"I'm aware that there's a lot of people that are in my position and a lot of people that come from where I come from," Obada said to the Charlotte Observer. "I have the platform — and I'm fortunate to have the platform — to tell that story. It's a very common story. It's a very common upbringing. And a lot of people don't have the chances to do that. So if by me chasing my dreams and being a part of this and working hard subconsciously motivates them to let them know that it's possible, then that's what I can do."

One player that Obada has motivated is Bills RB Christian Wade, a fellow member of the NFL International Player Pathway Program.

PERSONAL

Born in Nigeria, moved to the Netherlands at age 8 and then to London at age 10. Spent time in foster care in London. Worked as a part-time security guard at Grace Foods while playing football for the London Warriors.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

INSTANT IMPACT

In his first career NFL game, Obada recorded a sack and an interception and was named the NFC Defensive Player of the week for his efforts. It was the culmination of a lifetime of work.

"I've been working my ass off, and I've been praying and I've been hoping that I do get an opportunity," Obada said to Panthers.com after the game. "When my name did get called, I just knew I had to make the most of it. I buried my head all week in my film studies, and then with some of the things I saw, it was instinctual. I knew what was coming."

BIGKID AMBASSADOR

When Obada isn't working on his football skills, he tries to give back and help out in his south London community. Obada does a lot of work with the BigKid Foundation, which seeks to equip young people at risk of social exclusion and youth violence to take control of their lives, find, develop and act on their own potential.

"I grew up around that," Obada said to the BBC. "I grew up in south London and I know how easy it is to get pulled into certain things. I just want to help them."

FIRST-AND-10

ED OLIVER is in his third season in Buffalo after being drafted by the team in the first round (9th overall) out of Houston in 2019. A three-time All-America selection, Oliver played in 33 games during his three-year tenure with the Cougars.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

COATS 4 KIDS

Oliver wanted to immediately make an impact in the Buffalo community after joining the Bills as the 9th overall pick in the 2019 NFL Draft and he found a way to do that in partnership with Colvin Cleaners.

Oliver participated in the Coats 4 Kids campaign, meeting fans who donated coats, boots, hats and gloves during a collection event outside of the Bills stadium. It's a cause that is especially important given the climate in Western New York and one that immediately stuck out to Ed as an important way to give back to his new community.

"Buffalo's a place I'd heard has unbearable winters and I'd hate for a kid to have to walk outside in a blizzard or whatever kind of crazy weather we get up here," Oliver told WIVB TV during the coat drive.

The 2019 edition of the campaign was able to receive and distribute over 10,000 coats to people in need.

"It just epitomizes the Bills Mafia and what the Bills Football Program is all about. It's all about family, it's all about one another, making sure one another's straight," Oliver said.

BROTHERLY LOVE

Most recruiting experts were surprised when Ed decided to stay close to home and play his college ball at Houston. One of the main reasons for going to Houston was so Ed could play with his brother, Marcus, who played on the offensive line for the Cougars and has served as a mentor and best friend for Ed.

"He's the reason I love football the way I do now," Ed said to the Athletic. "Without him, I don't know what I'd be doing. Every time I kind of veered off, he was always right there with me, going, 'Nah, this way.' I'd veer off again, 'Nah, this way.'"

"I can tell you, I got over a lot of fear with horses, too," he said. "A couple times I thought I was going to die, and I realized: 'Hey, you've just got to go through it. You'll be all right.' "PAYING IT FORWARD"

In 2020, Phillips was named the Bills Walter Payton Man of the Year for his extensive work in the community.

Through his nonprofit organization, the Playmakers Organization, Phillips helps children with intellectual disabilities. His goal is to foster self-esteem in their young lives and employ a pay-it-forward mentality with volunteerism in the community and other acts of kindness.

"I have always been a firm believer in paying it forward," Phillips said. "I was blessed with a fantastic village of people who poured into me as I grew up and helped me get to where I am today. I am passionate about playing a positive role in being a part of others' villages - to help better their lives and in turn, making our communities a greater place to live."

PERSONAL

Son of Paul and Tammie Phillips. His sister, Delanie, played soccer at Nebraska-Kearney. Earned degree with a double major in sociology and science, technology and society and a minor in education. Besides football and wrestling, also competed in track and finished second in the state in the discus.

"IT WASN'T FAIR"

A staple at many community relations events for Bills and a tireless contributor to his Playmakers foundation, Phillips also has a close relationship with Bornhava, a special education school in Buffalo, and Oishei Children's Hospital of Buffalo. Phillips' motivation to help others is simple. "Growing up playing sports, I became close with a lot of inner city kids. Those kids had the same shoes on with holes in them all the time. It wasn't fair."

WHEN HARRY MET PANCHO

Phillips held a special bond with late Bills super fan Ezra Castro, better known as Pancho Billa. Castro, who passed away from cancer on May 14, 2019, was called on stage at the 2018 NFL Draft in Dallas by former Bills Andre Reed and Fred Jackson to announce the selection of the 96th pick, which turned out to be Phillips. The two remained in touch as often as they could during Castro's bout with cancer. Phillips remains in contact with Castro's family and even sends his children Christmas gifts. "It's just really, really impressive what Ezra's power was in this city and to this organization," reflected Phillips.

WRESTLING PEDIGREE

A three-time state champion as a wrestler in high school, Phillips worked his way up from wrestling at 189 pounds as a freshman to winning the Class A 285-pound state title as a senior. His experience as a wrestler has helped him in football as well. "Physically, it helps with my hips, hands, flexibility and violence," he said. "Mentally, it helps with my competitive edge. In football, there are any many players responsible on every play. In wrestling, you can't blame anyone but yourself. I take that same mentality in the weight room, the meeting room and on the field." Phillips has practiced with his high school's wrestling squad in Omaha over the years. "I like to work with the heavyweights and it served two purposes. First, I was able to get some good cardio in. But more importantly, I was able to give them pointers on moves that were successful for me."

MAKING MY HOME PROUD

Ask Brandon Powell what motivates him and two of the first things he will mention is to make his grandma proud and to represent his hometown of Deerfield, FL.

"My grandma is my biggest support system. I'm just trying to make her proud," said Powell to Florida HS Football in 2013. "I'm just trying to put Deerfield back on the map."

Brandon's dad, Brian, said he never doubts that he'll be able to accomplish both of those things due to his aptitude for putting in the work. "He has always been a hard worker. He studies the game and knows the game. Plus, he always plays with a chip on his shoulder," said Brian Powell. Powell's teammates have also been quick to witness that work ethic. Mark Thompson, one of Powell's teammates at Florida, said, "BP is a warrior. One word I would use to describe him is grind, because he definitely grinds. I know he plays for his grandmother and his mom and his family. That says a lot about his character and a lot of things he went through this year. Obviously he persevered and I think perseverance is the key of life and he has that."

FIRST-AND-10

JORDAN POYER has been one of the most productive safeties in the NFL since joining the Bills as an unrestricted free agent in 2017. Poyer, a former cornerback, joined the NFL as a 7th round draft choice of Philadelphia in 2013 but was released and claimed off waivers by Cleveland early that season. He played in 45 games with the Browns from 2013-16. He signed a 2-year contract extension with Buffalo in 2020.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

SCHOLASTIC SUPERSTAR

A high school sports legend, Poyer led Astoria to state titles in both football and baseball. On the gridiron, he was named the 4A Offensive and Defensive Player of the Year as a senior, starring at quarterback and safety. In basketball, he was named the 2009 Cowapa League Player of the Year. He also was a star pitcher in baseball.

In fact, if it wasn't for his love of football, Poyer believes he could be playing baseball in the MLB today. Drafted in the 42nd round of the by the Marlins in 2009 following a stellar high school career, Poyer instead chose to attend Oregon State and play football and baseball. He eventually just focused on football.

"At the time, I just felt like I needed to be with my football teammates in the spring," Poyer reflected. "It was tough. My grades were slipping. It was definitely one of the hardest decisions I've ever had to make."

PERSONAL

He and his wife, Rachel, have a daughter, Aliyah. They have three English bulldogs named Taz, Luna and Savage. Is the son of Julie and Fa'alaeo Poyer, who both played sports at Eastern New Mexico (Julie played volleyball and Fa'alaeo was a tight end in football). Hobbies include fishing, golfing and jet skiing. Majored in education.

POYER'S PLEDGE TO HELP OTHERS

After revealing his addiction to alcohol in an emotional Instagram post on March 13, 2021 (his one-year anniversary of sobriety), Poyer pledged to help others who face a similar situation. He is particularly interested in helping those in the Western New York community and in his hometown in Astoria, Oregon. In the spring of 2021, he spoke to a group of children in conjunction with Kids Escaping Drugs Foundation based in West Seneca, NY. "For me, I just want to continue to inspire others to know that it's okay to ask for help and it's okay to talk about it ... I just want to normalize talking about it and asking for help," said Poyer.

"A HUGE BLESSING IN DISGUISE"

Hospitalized with a lacerated kidney following a blind side block on a kickoff return at Tennessee in 2016, Poyer is able to reflect positively on that scary moment in his life. "Now that I look back, it was a huge blessing in disguise," Poyer told the Buffalo media after signing a contract extension in 2020. "I have some of my best friends on this team ... that play right there led me to being here and led me to everything that has come with being here." Poyer was selected by his Bills teammates as the Ed Block Courage Award winner in 2017.

UP FOR THE CHALLENGE

Longtime director at Champagnat School Isabel Alonso had high praise for Rousseau. And it was not about his football skills. "Greg's the first kid at our school who has ever graduated early," Alonso told The Athletic. "I gave him the biggest challenge I thought I could ever give a kid. There's not supposed to be enough time in the day to practice and train and do a full year's worth of school in one semester. But Greg didn't sleep."

"He spent every free moment he had making sure he got everything done. He went to class from 7 to 2, practiced from 3 to 7, then went home and did everything he had to do with his online classes — English, Pre-Calculus, Economics and Physics — on weekends and at night. Not only did he not miss a single practice the whole time, but he finished his last exam the day before he enrolled at the University of Miami."

FIRST-AND-10

EMMANUEL SANDERS joins the Bills after spending the 2020 season with the Saints. Sanders entered the NFL in 2010 as a third round pick of the Steelers, where he played until 2013. Sanders has also played for the Broncos (2014-19) and 49ers (2019).

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

MAKING SURE TO GIVE BACK

In 2017, Sanders founded the Emmanuel Sanders Foundation, a nonprofit whose mission is to provide children from financially disadvantaged families with resources and support to reach their full potential and attain a better life. The program is based around providing kids with new sports equipment so they are able to participate with their peers in amateur youth sports. Sanders' vision is to instill life fundamentals in the kids his foundation helps through the power of sports.

In his free time, Sanders considers himself to be quite the gamer. He used this hobby as a way to reach out to kids through his foundation, as he hosted the Emmanuel Sanders Arcade Adventure in the 2019 offseason. Sanders spent the night playing games with fans and auctioning off signed items to benefit "Emmanuel's Locker." "Emmanuel's Locker" provides Title I schools with a sports equipment locker filled with sporting equipment for students to use in their after-school sports who may not have access to some of the sporting equipment they need to participate and succeed in after-school sports programs.

PERSONAL

Lives with his wife, Gaby, and their two children, Princeton and Zoie. Graduated with a degree in sociology from SMU.

Son of the late Stephanie Sanders and Joel Shalow, he has two younger sisters.

BACK TOGETHER

The 2021 season in Buffalo won't be the first time that Emmanuel Sanders and Cole Beasley team up together.

The two played together at Southern Methodist University in 2008 and 2009, lighting up Conference USA as part of the Mustangs aerial attack.

Coming together again after all of these years in Buffalo led to Beasley posting a photo on Instagram captioned, "Party Time!".

FIRST-AND-10

DEVIN SINGLETARY is in his third season with the Bills in 2020 after being drafted by the team in the third round (74th overall) out of Florida Atlantic.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

LONG LIVE GB

When Singletary first joined the American Heritage high school football team, he was behind Greg Bryant at running back. Bryant was a star, but still took the time to mentor Singletary before Bryant went to Notre Dame to play football.

Sadly, Bryant was shot while driving while home in South Florida and passed away in 2016, a death that turned Singletary's life upside down.

"It was very difficult honestly, because that was my big brother," Singletary said to BuffaloBills.com. "It brought me to tears, but some things are out of our control. He's in a better place now, but it was definitely very difficult."

Singletary puts in extra work knowing that his motivation is not only to prove to himself he can play in the NFL, but to make Bryant proud as well. He prays to Bryant before every game.

"If he was here, he'd be full of tears and happy for me," said Singletary. "He'd say, 'Little bro you did it. Now it's time for you to go even harder.' He'd just tell me to keep being great."

PERSONAL

The son of Devonn and Sabrina Singletary. He has one brother and one sister. Devin was a Public Safety and Administration major at Florida Atlantic.

FOCUSED AND READY

After not producing the way he had hoped in the AFC Championship Game during the 2020 season, Singletary has focused on improving in every way he could during the 2021 offseason.

After linking up with trainer Nick Harris and Pro Bowl Vikings RB Dalvin Cook, Singletary has done everything in his power to improve his explosiveness and make sure he doesn't live anything on the field the next time he gets his chance.

RECORD BREAKER

Singletary's time at Florida Atlantic was unlike anything the school had ever seen when it came to production on the football field.

Singletary is the career rushing yards leader for the school with 4,289 yards and he also has the single season record with 1,920 yards. He also holds the school record with 66 career rushing touchdowns, which is good for sixth place on the FBS all-time list. He became the only player in school history to be named AP All-American.

A HELPING HAND

Playing his college football in the state of North Carolina and then beginning his pro career in that same state, Smith was committed to finding a way to make an impact there.

As a member of the Carolina Panthers Player Impact Committee, he had participated in a reading program for Charlotte-area youth where he recited books to help promote literacy for second and third graders. The particular program he participated in specifically focused on encouraging Black men to engage the children.

"They told me they wanted majority Black men because that's who was struggling in the Charlotte area. Little Black boys had the lowest reading scores out of all the demographics," Smith told Panthers.com. "I just know how important it is to be able to read."

After the reality of the COVID-19 pandemic set in, the committee Smith was on decided to donate Chromebooks to provide better access for remote learning opportunities for students in need.

FIRST-AND-10

MARQUEZ STEVENSON was selected by the Bills in the sixth round (203rd overall) of the 2021 NFL Draft. Stevenson was a prolific receiver and kick returner during his collegiate career with Houston.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

NFL MENTORS

A Shreveport native, Stevenson was referred to as raw when he began his high school football career. Two mentors who helped change that? Morris Claiborne and Tre'Davious White. Having been around them substantially bolstered Stevenson's football IQ said his high school coach Jim Gatlin. "Marquez has a lot of football smarts and he has been around some great athletes," Gatlin said. "He also has a lot of confidence. Marquez doesn't question if he's going to make a play — he knows he will make the play." To go along with his football IQ, Stevenson became renowned for his blazing fast speed and was nicknamed 'Speedy'. Stevenson likes to compare his game to Kansas City Chiefs WR Tyreek Hill.

ALL ON ME

Before every game, Stevenson writes a message on his eyepack to capture his emotions for that game. Last season fresh off of a loss to BYU, Stevenson wrote 'All On Me' on his eyepack to symbolize he knew he needed to step up. "Last game, I didn't have the performance I wanted," Stevenson said of his one catch in a 43-26 loss to BYU. "This week all I was thinking was I want to go out there ... it's all on me."

The son of Angelicia Stevenson. Has one sister. Graduated with a degree in education health. Also played basketball and ran track in high school.

FIRST-AND-10

TOMMY SWEENEY enters his third season with the Bills in 2020 after being drafted by the team in the seventh round (228th overall) out of Boston College. Sweeney played in 50 games during his four seasons at Boston College.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

EARNING HIS WAY

It was a slow build for Sweeney to make himself in to a legitimate NFL prospect during his time at Boston College.

Sweeney, who was only offered by Boston College coming out of high school, still uses the lack of scholarship offers during his high school days to fuel his competitive fire as he built himself from a non-contributor in his early days at Boston College to making first team All-ACC during his redshirt senior year.

A DRIVE DOWN THE 90

When the 716 area code came up on Sweeney's phone on draft day, it meant having a chance to play close to his family and friends who reside two hours east of Buffalo in Auburn, NY--some of which were already Bills fans.

Sweeney has spent plenty of summers with his Auburn family at Lake Owasco, a place which he calls his favorite vacation spot.

PERSONAL

The son of Annette and Bob Sweeney, his full name is Thomas R. Sweeney. Has one sister, Moriah. Earned a degree in marketing from the Carroll School of Management in May of 2018. Spent time in graduate school with an emphasis on sports administration. Also played basketball in high school.

FIRST-AND-10

JOSH THOMAS enters his second season with the Bills in 2021 after joining as an undrafted free agent in 2020. He finished his five-year career (2015-19) at Appalachian State appearing in 56 games while starting 30 and totaling 163 tackles, 7.5 tackles for loss, seven interceptions, and 14 passes defended.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

SUPERSTITIOUS BEARD

Thomas' pregame rituals consist of putting on his left sock first followed by his right sock, and writing his grandpa's birthday on his cleats. However when he was in college, he developed a new superstition, not shaving his beard.

According to the Montgomery Advertiser, "Thomas, the Appalachian State safety and Montgomery Academy graduate, is a 23-year-old senior on pace to graduate in May and with hopes of a professional football career. But he has developed a sketchy-looking attribute this year. He has a beard — and calling it a beard may be generous. "And I'm not going to shave, at least for two more games," Thomas said after the Mountaineers' 48-13 win over Troy on Friday. "I have to let it grow a little more."

"He's the type of player who is a dream to coach," first-year App State coach Eliah Drinkwitz said. "I wish all my guys were like Josh. "He does need to shave," Drinkwitz quipped.

PERSONAL

Son of Felicia Friendly and Terry Thomas. Has a sister, Anaya and a brother, Jarrett. He also played basketball and baseball in high school. Graduated from Appalachian State with a degree in exercise science.

LEARNING QUICKLY

Tariq Thompson entered high school very undersized and set on learning his role on the football team for a year or so before he was a starter. However, injuries to the starters changed his plan and he was thrust into a starting role at a young age. He was forced to learn quickly, which worked to his benefit as he became a top recruit in the area. When he arrived at San Diego State, he had the mindset to jump into a starting right away based on his high school experiences.

"I remember the last week of camp during my freshman year and Coach Gonzales (former Aztec defensive assistant Danny) telling me, 'OK, you're going with the (starters),' Thompson told GoAztecs.com. 'I was like, 'Wow.' Everything was happening so fast. I mean, two months earlier, I was just this newbie on campus. I never thought I'd be (starting). That first snap (against UC Davis), I was really nervous. I was like, 'Man, I've never felt anything like this.' Then, on the first drive, I got a pick, and it was just like this blessing. After I caught it, I thought, 'OK, this is the type of player I can be.'"

PERSONAL

Pronounced: TAH-reek. The son of Tracy Thompson, a former defensive back at San Diego State from 1982-85, and Anne Ford-Thompson. Has two brothers, Tracy and Floyd, and a sister, Tiffany. Competed in football, basketball, and track in high school. Enjoys playing video games. Earned degree in interdisciplinary studies.

A MEANINGFUL TEXT

Prior to any game he plays, Trubisky knows his phone will ding with a message from his dad, Dave, that reads 'Just do what you do.' It's a sentiment his dad has shared with him countless times since he began playing football. "All I have to do is do what I was born to do: Play this game and have fun," Mitch told The Chicago Tribune in 2017. "Getting that text from him, it means I'm ready to go. As long as I give it my all, I know he's going to be proud of me, which is the best feeling in the world."

The texts originally began back when Mitch was playing JV football for Mentor High School and continued on through varsity and college football en route to helping Mitch fulfill his dream of playing in the NFL. They originated because Dave coached Mitch from when he first began playing at seven years old and JV was the first time he wouldn't be on the sidelines with him. "Now I'm a parent in the bleachers; it was kind of tough," Dave said. "That was just my way of getting him ready for the game or trying to calm him down and just keep him straight."

THUMBS UP MISSION

A close cause for Trubisky when giving back to the community is the Thumbs Up Mission, which seeks to help families who have a parent or child battling cancer. Trubisky has represented the cause multiple times during My Cause, My Cleats week. "They just help create lifelong memories that help overcome cancer and really just give these families something to cherish for the rest of their lives together," Trubisky said in 2017. "Because not every family can afford a nice vacation or get-together, but this allows people to come together and really face their problems as a group rather than alone. So it's an awesome charity."

FOOTBALL FAMILY

The son of a football coach, Tuitele is grateful for the time his father spent with him growing up in Chico, CA. "Football has been there since the beginning ... It was funny because I actually did not like football for my first two years. I hated it," he told the Draft Diamonds podcast. "I was too heavy. I had to actually run around the field for days and never got to play for two years. And I was really upset with that, but you know I came to love it. My dad's very passionate, and it's just crazy how he kind of changed throughout the years. You know it was him being my coach, my mentor, you know, always hammering me of you know what's right and what's wrong, and always trying to stay focused on the things you believe in."

"Before, I didn't really see why he was doing this. I just wanted to be like everyone else and go play on the playground or something or play video games. But as I got older and when I got to college, I actually just started thinking like, man, you know I'm very grateful for what my pops did for me, pushing me all those years."

NEW TO THE GAME

As an athlete, Wade has always sought to push himself to the limit and try to accomplish everything he could.

With that in mind, Wade made the decision to retire from rugby in 2018 and focus on attempting to break in to the NFL as a running back.

"I want to look back when I'm 60 and tell my kids and my family, 'Yeah, I had the opportunity to do that and I did it,'" Wade told The Athletic. "I don't just want to say, 'I could have done that.'"

Wade moved to Florida to train at IMG Academy under former NFL running back Earnest Byner in order to begin to understand the intricacies that come along with football.

"I know I have the attributes and skills to play, but there's so much more to this game than just attributes. So many people with probably better ability than me, or maybe more ability than some Hall of Famers, didn't make it, whether their mind wasn't right or they couldn't learn at the right speed."

MEANING OF JERSEY NUMBER 39

In 2019, Wallace changed his jersey number from #47 to his old college number #39 to honor his best friend and former high school teammate DeAntae Fuller (pictured bottom left above), who was tragically killed in their hometown of Tucson while Levi was attending Alabama. "My favorite number growing up was #32," recalled Wallace. "DeAntae wore #8. So it's $32+8=39$." Levi is regularly in touch with Fuller's family and his mother, Patricia Fuller, even attended a Bills game in 2018. "His family is my family," Wallace said proudly.

"I KNOW HE'S PROUD OF ME"

Wallace didn't have much choice for which team to root for growing up. His father, Walter, a 21-year veteran of the Air Force and Tuscaloosa native, was passionate about the Crimson Tide. Levi attended the University of Alabama and walked on the team. Finally, in 2016, he earned a scholarship. However, on the eve of the spring game that year, his father passed away from ALS and never got to see his son play. Walking off the field a National Champion on year later, Wallace found his mother in the stands and they both pointed up to the sky in honor of Walter. "I know he's proud of me," said Wallace.

FIRST-AND-10

DAVIS WEBB originally joined the Bills as a practice squad member at the beginning of the 2019 season and then signed a futures contract at the beginning of the 2020 offseason. Davis entered the NFL in 2017 as a third round pick of the New York Giants, spending the 2017 season with the Giants and then the 2018 season with the New York Jets.

BACKHAND, TOP SHELF

While Webb has carved out a football career that has led to playing at the highest level, his first sports love was actually another sport: hockey. As a kid growing up in Texas, Webb's family had Dallas Stars Season tickets and he first began skating around the age of 4, shortly after the Stars won the 1999 Stanley Cup.

Three years later, Webb was so smooth on the ice that he scored a game winning goal with .5 seconds left to deliver his Junior Stars team a championship. "Best goal ever," Webb told the NY Daily News in 2017. "I still remember visually pretty good. I remember everything. It was one on one, I got a good pass and I kind of skated wide and kind of out-skated (the goalie). He couldn't back pedal fast enough so I kinda ran by him, I look up there's three seconds, so I knew I couldn't deke and do my favorite move - sell a shot, backhand, top shelf it. I mastered that one in my driveway."

Webb eventually opted to pursue football and gave up his hockey aspirations, but still loves the game and routinely attends Sabres while he is in Buffalo.

PERSONAL

The son of Matt and Donna Webb. Received his bachelor's degree from Texas Tech in exercise and sports science in May of 2016 and began working on his master's degree in public health at Cal.

PUTTING THE WORK IN

Who is the best athlete in the Webb family is probably a serious argument. Davis' mom (Donna) played tennis at Appalachian State and his dad (Matt) played baseball at Texas. Despite his athletic roots, Davis realizes that talent doesn't replace work ethic. "I noticed that the best players were the hardest workers," Davis told The Daily Cal. "(My dad) always told us that you better be the best player or the worst player, because if you're in the middle, you're not going to be able to play because coaches' kids get a bad rep. He told me at a young age that I'd have to be the best player, and he pushed me towards it."

FIRST-AND-10

TRE'DAVIOUS WHITE enters his fifth season with the Buffalo Bills after being selected in the first round of the 2017 draft out of LSU. He signed a four-year extension at the beginning of the 2020 season, tying him to the team through 2025. In his first 4 seasons, he's been named to the Pro Bowl twice, along with First- and Second-Team All-Pro honors.

HOMETOWN HERO

White was born and raised in Shreveport, Louisiana on a street known as Cooper Road. The street is known for gangs and violence and those who are from there will tell you that the biggest challenge is finding a path away from the violence.

White however, was determined to make a name for himself and set an example for those looking for a role model in Shreveport. He was his high school valedictorian and earned a scholarship to LSU. Now a starting cornerback in the NFL, he continues to follow through on his promise to give back to the community.

"I believe that I'm in this position for a reason," White said. "God placed me in this position for a reason. I feel like he placed me in this position to be that light, so guys can know that it's possible. It can happen. It's not something that's impossible; you just have to continue to work and continue to put God first and do all of the things you're supposed to do: be a respectful citizen, be a respectful student, be a respectful son, daughter. Great things happen to great people."

NUMBER CHANGE

During White's freshman and sophomore seasons at LSU, he wore #16, before switching to #18 for his junior and senior seasons. The number change didn't just happen, it was one he had to earn.

18 at LSU has traditionally gone to a player who has success both on and off the field, along with having a selfless attitude. White was voted on by his teammates to wear the number for his final two seasons as a Tiger.

FOR HIS FAMILY

Tre'Davious bought his mother a house in 2018 as a thank you for all she did for him growing up. When he signed a contract extension in 2020, he vowed to continue to help his family.

"It's a lot of people in my family that are hurting. I plan to lighten that burden on them. And we're going to do it together," White said. "With this contract, it's not about me because I've been good off the first one. But this is about people that I love and I really genuinely care about and being able to provide opportunities for them that, if I wasn't in this position, it wasn't going to happen for nobody in my family. Nobody."

BATTLING BACK

Rachad Wildgoose assumed that when he couldn't move his arm during a game, it was just a stinger and that he could power through it. Instead, staff took him for an X-ray, only to learn that he had broken his scapula and his junior season was ending right as it had begun.

Given COVID restrictions, Wildgoose decided to set his sights on the NFL and recovery.

"Honestly, a lot went into my decision. If I would have finished the season, I would have still left after my junior season," Wildgoose told reporters Wednesday at UW's Pro Day. "I was talking with coach (Jim) Leonhard throughout my three years here, and I told him when I first got here to, you know, don't let me settle, don't settle with me, push me to be my greatest. And after camp, he was telling me like, 'Bro, if you can keep this up the whole world's going to know what I know.' I talked to my parents about it and just me also believing in my skills and watching myself develop and feeling you know, ready enough physically and mentally. When I got coach Leonhard's support, I was like, all in."

STAYING POSITIVE

Williams' collegiate journey didn't play out as he originally envisioned. When he left high school, he went to Ohio State and intended to play his whole career there. Unfortunately, he didn't produce as he expected. Rather than be bitter, he found a new opportunity at North Carolina and put the game in perspective.

"We love this game. It means so much to us," he told the Daily Tarheel. "But at the end of the day, it's a game. Don't let this game stress you out to the point where it just messes you up mentally. Stay positive. There's bigger things in life that we have to worry about."

HOMETOWN REPPIN'

Not many people make it out of New London, North Carolina; Williams' hometown. Williams uses that as motivation.

"Not a long of people do big things from where I'm from," he said. "That's a big influence for me - more than any person. I want to be a great role model for my town."

NASCAR ACTION

Antonio Williams grew up watching NASCAR races with his grandfather, James. When James passed away in 2020, Antonio wanted to find a way to continuously honor him. He got connected with driver Joe Graf Jr. and the two had an instant connection. The two quickly became business partners, with Williams becoming an investor in Green Light Racing, Graf's team, helping the team to secure sponsorships.

"We have a lot of similar interests, but I think we're able to connect on a different level just because of how driven we both are in our respective fields," Graf said of Williams to the Buffalo News. "He's had some adversity in his path to the NFL, I've had a lot of adversity in my racing career as well. We're kind of able to feed off that with each other and relate with each other on a lot of things that you just aren't able to do with other people, because they just don't get it."

FROM THE COURT TO THE FIELD

"I didn't know anything about football," Williams told the Buffalo News while reminiscing about his high school days. Basketball was his first and only love in sports and, despite attempts by football coaches, it wasn't until the 8th grade when he started playing football. It wasn't until Williams' older brother, Michael, decided to play football. "He was a freshman when I was in seventh grade, and back then, I looked up to my brother," Williams said. "Anything he did, I did."

Michael Young, a longtime football coach at Lake Dallas HS saw a lot of potential in Williams, who was 6-1, 220 at the time. "He had big hips and a big butt, even as a skinny kid," Young said. "He wasn't very heavy, but you could tell he was going to really put on weight ... And just the bigger and stronger that he got, the more confidence he got in football and it was pretty easy. By the time he was a junior, he was already getting offers from several big schools."

DARYL'S NUMBER ONE ROLE MODEL

Williams does not have to look far for his role model in life: his mother Lamesa Williams. A single mother of 5 children beginning at the age of 14, Lamesa still managed to earn three degrees in education. "I remember her being on her laptop a lot," Williams told the Charlotte Observer. "And doing a lot of homework."

"I did not sleep a lot. Coffee was my best friend," Lamesa said. "But I did not let my decisions in life compromise what I had to do for them as a mother. ... I found out with five kids you can't get a corporate job and maintain five kids. So that's why I became a teacher and fell in love with teaching."

"It's crazy," Williams said. "I think she had my brother when she was 14. Being able to take care of him and then the rest of us when we came along, that says a lot by itself. It says a lot about her character."

Williams grew up in Louisiana and California in a large family. He is the youngest of eight kids, with the oldest being 17 years older than him. Despite the age difference, he is extremely close with his family. With all eight children in a single household, sometimes times were tough and Williams had to work to stay on a straight path. When asked what the biggest obstacle he had to overcome in his lifetime, he said his childhood.

"Not many people would make it out from where I came from," Williams said. "I had to overcome a lot." Despite outside influences, Williams is pursuing his NFL dream, but remembers his background to remain grounded. He is inspired by his mother, Jamie, who makes sure he understands his wrongs and continues to motivate him.

PERSONAL

The son of Jamie and Edward Williams, Duke is one of eight children. He earned a junior college degree in Kinesiology. Full name is D'haquille Williams.

FIRST-AND-10

JUSTIN ZIMMER joined the Bills in 2020 after previously spending time on the active roster of both the Browns (2019) and Falcons (2018). He also spent time with the Saints in 2017 after entering the league as an undrafted free agent out of Ferris State with the Bills in 2016. He spent four years at Ferris State.

IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

THE QUIET ASSASSIN

After spending multiple years bouncing around both the CFL and the NFL, Zimmer has found a home in Buffalo in 2020.

After beginning the season on the practice squad, Zimmer made his impact felt in Week 8 when he forced a fumble from Patriots QB Cam Newton with 37 seconds remaining in the game to secure a 24-21 victory for Buffalo.

His quiet personality and hard working attitude has endeared him to his teammates

"He's a beast. I call him my quiet assassin," Jerry Hughes said to the Buffalo News. "He comes in the building early, he's working hard and he's just flying around trying to make plays. And that's our makeup of the team, guys who want to hit the field, who are hungry, who want to make plays. And for Zim to go out there, every opportunity he's got, he's in the backfield tossing offensive linemen off, taking double teams. He's being that force that we need him to be."

PERSONAL

The son of Larry and Joyce Zimmer, Justin was a Three-Time Academic All-American while at Ferris State. Lives with his wife, Jordan, and their Great Dane, Sully. Is on the board of the For Goodness Sake foundation in Greenville, Michigan.

WALL OF FAME

The Buffalo Bills Wall of Fame was created in 1980 to honor former players, administrators and coaches who have played significant roles in the team's history. To be eligible for induction, an individual must have played with the Bills for at least three years and be retired from professional football. Also eligible are other individuals who have made outstanding contributions to the Bills, including administrators and coaches. Selections are made by a distinguished panel composed of club personnel and media members.

Ralph C. Wilson Jr. Statue

The Buffalo Bills announced in March 2015 that the organization would commission a statue to be made of Ralph C. Wilson, Jr. The statue is displayed outside of New Era Field in Founder's Plaza.

Ralph C. Wilson, Jr. passed away at the age of 95. Mr. Wilson was the sole owner of the Bills franchise for 54 seasons after purchasing the team on October 28, 1959. Under his leadership, the Bills won two American Football League Championships in 1964 and 1965 and appeared in an unprecedented four consecutive Super Bowls in the 1990s. Mr. Wilson along with former Bills Head Coach Marv Levy, former General Manager Bill Polian plus eight of his players have earned football's highest honor by being inducted into the Professional Football Hall of Fame.

The construction of the statue was a collaborative effort between Terry and Kim Pegula and Mary Wilson. Founder's Plaza, the current location of the statue, is located northwest of The Bills Store at New Era Field.

Mr. Wilson's statue is the first statue in history to be displayed on the grounds of New Era Field. The life-size statue is based on a photo taken of Mr. Wilson with Thurman Thomas along the sidelines on October 21, 1990 during Buffalo's 30-27 victory over the New York Jets.

BILLS FOOTBALL

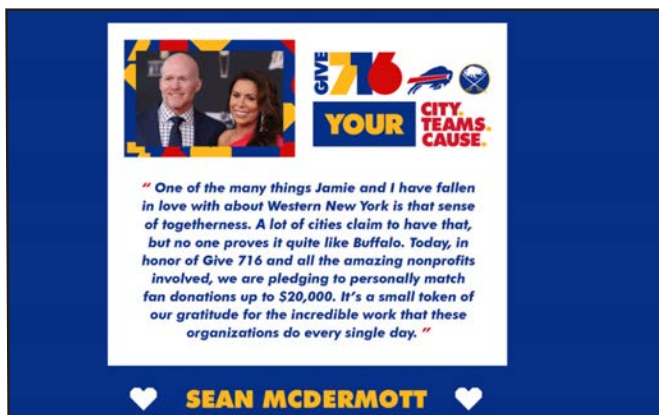

BILLS IN THE COMMUNITY

PUTTING THE COMMUNITY FIRST

The Buffalo Bills organization is committed to improving the quality of life in Western New York through community outreach and charitable investment with a focus in the areas of health & safety, youth football and military appreciation. With the platform that the Bills players and coaches are given, they've always made it a point to make an impact in the Western New York community and they continued to do so during the 2021 offseason.

GIVE716

GIVE 716 DAY RAISED MORE THAN $1.1 MILLION IN 2021

The Buffalo Bills and Buffalo Sabres Foundations were been blown away by the Western New York community's response to Give716. Kicked off by a $20,000 donation from Coach Sean McDermott and amplified by matching grants from many of our partner organizations, 7,334 people generously donated to Give716 and raised an amazing $1,133,621.56 for our local charities. Thank you Buffalo for doing what you do best – you are a truly amazing and supportive community.

Special thanks to our partner organizations who went above and beyond to create power hours that matched fan donations, produced generous grants and engaged in creative promotions to benefit Western New York charities:

Dave & Adam's Card World
Highmark Blue Cross Blue Shield of Western New York
HUNT Real Estate & HUNT Mortgage
KeyBank
Moe's Southwest Grill
M&T Bank
Rachel's Mediterranean Grill
Total Sports Enterprises
Wegmans

Thank you to all Western New York media outlets who supported Give716 and helped us spread the word. We could not have done this without you!

The more than $1.1 million raised through Give 716 benefitted 434 charities across Western New York, many of which were affected by the COVID pandemic. Our goal with Give716 was simple: unite Sabres and Bills fans with the Western New York Community in an epic day of giving! Nonprofits deliver for our community every day, and we all came together as one team and became a symbol of generosity not only for our local community, but for the world.
